U.S. Cracks Down On Bribe Suspects

Capt. Wool Court-Martial Ready; Specialist Tartaglia Is Ousted

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Pentagon cracked down Wednesday on personnel whose names cropped up in the Senate investigation of military clothing procurement bribery charges.

In quick succession, two disciplinary actions were announced by the Defense Department. They were:

1. The Air Force initiated court-martial proceedings against Capt. Raymond Wool, who has been accused of taking a $50,000 pay-off from Chicago hat manufacturer Harry Lev.

2. The Army suspended Ferdinand Tartaglia from his $10,000-a-year job as clothing specialist in research and development headquarters at Natick, Mass., after it was brought out at the Senate probe that he received smoked sturgeon and other favors from Lev.

Wool, a former procurement officer, has denied taking bribes but admitted income tax evasion.

Tartaglia allegedly became a business partner of Lev.

Sailor Hats

Wool was accused of taking the $50,000 from Lev to help the manufacturer get a two million dollar contract for 6,823,000 sailor hats. Wool denied getting the payment and Lev denied giving it.

The rapid - fire Pentagon announcements on Wool and Tartaglia provided a sober climax to Lev's second day of testimony before the Senate Investigations subcommittee.

The Polish-born millionaire admitted sending Tartaglia 39 pounds of expensive smoked sturgeon before they became partners.

He said it was in 1953 that they formed a company to process chicken feathers for "private enterprise" and government use as stuffing and for other purposes.

3 Charges

The Air Force announcement said that Wool faces three charges. One of them is based on the allegation he accepted "gifts and gratitudes for services rendered." The other two are that he "permitted doctor bills to be paid for him by Air Force contractors" and that he "falsified travel vouchers."

The blunt Army announcement concerning Tartaglia was issued by Quartermaster General, Maj. Gen. Kester L. Hastings. Hastings said the procurement official will be investigated on charges he "was an undisclosed business associate of Mr. Harry Lev, a government contractor, while dealing with Mr. Lev as a government representative."

Concerning his partnership with Tartaglia, Lev testified during the day the business never got anywhere because of defective machinery. He said he put up $31,500 and Tartaglia $18,500 as the firm's starting capital.

$4,000 Check

Lev denied putting up Tartaglia's share of the money. He admitted, however, giving his own lawyer a check for $4,000 several days before Tartaglia turned up with $4,000 in cash as his first contribution.

Wool currently is stationed at Wright Patterson Air Base at Dayton, Ohio, but has been relieved of all procurement duties.

When he handled Lev's contract in 1953, he was contracting officer for the armed services textile and procurement agency (ASTAPA) in New York.

—'Moderate' Help—

$40 Million Aid To Tito Is Pushed By Stassen

Yugoslavia Remains Independent, Official Tells House Group

WASHINGTON (AP)—Foreign aid chief Harold E. Stassen declared Wednesday the United States will help itself by continuing a "moderate, limited" program of assistance to Communist Yugoslavia.

That middle European nation, he said, "remains firmly independent of the Cominform."

Stassen called on the House Foreign Affairs Committee to support the administration's request for 40½ million dollars in economic aid to Yugoslavia in the year beginning July 1.

The sum, slightly scaled down from funds listed for Marshall Tito's government in the current year, is part of a 3½-billion-dollar total aid program recommended by President Eisenhower. The Senate has authorized that figure, although no money has been actually appropriated.

An unspecified amount is also slated to go to Yugoslavia in arms and aircraft, under Defense Department supervision. Stassen testified only on economic assistance.

Sovereign

He went before the House committee as new questions were raised in Congress about extending more aid to Yougoslavia in view of its apparently improving relations with Russia. Tito and Kremlin leaders last week announced agreement on some fundamental policies in Europe and Asia.

Asked if the administration considered Yogoslavia "is with the West," Stassen said: "It is more a matter of feeling that she is independent and sovereign."

"It is in the interest of the United States and the free world to continue a moderate, limited program to Yogaslavia, keeping it under review as we go along," he said.

The recent visit to Belgrade of Soviet Communist boss Nikita S. Khrushchev and Premier Bulganin was an attempt to revive harmony between the two countries—split since the Stalin regime of Russia denounced Tito as a Communist heretic. Tito maintained a position of political independence during the Belgrade talks, but the two governments expressed similar views on certain foreign policy matters.

MISS SANDRA SPEICHER

Miss Lincoln Wins State Beauty Title

KEARNEY, Neb. (AP)—Miss Sandra Speicher, University of Nebraska student majoring in education, is the "Miss Nebraska" of 1956.

She won the honor at the annual state contest here Wednesday night in competition with six other entrants. Miss Speicher won the Miss Lincoln contest earlier this year.

Miss Speicher is a 19-year-old blonde whose measurements are 34, 23 and 34. She weighs 122 pounds and is five feet, six inches tall. In her talent presentation she spoke of the work she hoped to do in education of handicapped children.

She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Speicher of Omaha.

Second-place winner was Marian Eacker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everrett Eacker of Broken Bow, and the third-place winner was Mary Ann Rufenacht, daughter of Mrs. Walter Rufenacht of Sidney.

Mrs. Clouse To Return To Geneva Post

Changes in the administration of the State Girls Training School and the Nebraska State Home for Children were verified Wednesday night by Board of Control Chairman William Diers.

Miss Maude Disbrow resigned as Girls School superintendent. She said she requested the effective date of July 15 for the resignation.

She will be succeeded by Mrs. Blanche Clouse, superintendent of the Home for Children, Diers said.

Mrs. Clouse was superintendent of the Girls School from 1938 to 1951, when she resigned and was succeeded by Miss Disbrow. Diers said Mrs. Clouse had resigned in 1951 in order to take a job which would allow her Social Security credit. Diers said Mrs. Clouse had now filled her Social Security benefit requirements.

Diers said Mrs. Disbrow's resignation was unexpected and was received Wednesday morning. He said the Board of Control hadn't met to take official action yet.

-Another Rebuff-

President Loses On $1 Issue

Senate Approves 2-Bit Minimum Wage Boost

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic-dominated Senate, rebuffing President Eisenhower for the second day in a row, Wednesday approved a 25-cent increase in the national minimum wage to $1 an hour.

That was 10 cents more than the President had recommended—and called for again just Wednesday morning.

The Senate acted unexpectedly, and quickly. Its Labor Committee came out with the $1 figure only Tuesday. Called up Wednesday afternoon, the measure was debated for an hour and a quarter. Fewer than 25 senators appeared to be on the floor when it passed on an unrecorded vote.

The bill now goes to the House, where hearings already have started. If it becomes law, some 2,100,000 workers covered by the Fair Labor Standards Act would be due for a wage increase next Jan. 1. Many of these work in Southern states, and a large number in the textile, lumber, clothing, leather and candy industries.

Housing

Democrats had substituted Tuesday another of their programs for one presented by the administration. That concerned public housing, and as passed it provided for many more low-rent units than Eisenhower had suggested.

Before adopting the $1 minimum for workers in interstate commerce, the Senate shouted down by a big margin an attempt by Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) to graduate the increase. Smith moved to set the floor at 90 cents next year, raise it to 95 cents in 1957 and $1 in 1958.

Lad Falls From Tractor, Dies Of Strangling

VIRGINIA, Neb.—A three-year-old Pawnee County youngster died of strangulation early Wednesday evening when he apparently toppled from a farm tractor on which he was playing.

Dr. R. Brown of Beatrice pronounced the boy, Randy Rae Flesner, dead on arrival at a Beatrice hospital. The boy was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Flesner who farm 3½ miles east of Virginia. He was brought to Beatrice by his parents and grandfather, Eric Flesner, of Virginia.

According to Dr. Brown, Randy was seen playing on the farm tractor which was parked for the night by members of the family. A short time later the boy was found entangled in the front wheel of the tractor where he had evidently fallen.

Dr. Brown said the boy was dead on arrival at the hospital and gave the cause of death as strangulation.

This was the second time tragedy struck on the Flesner farm the last year. Last August, 16-year-old Richard Lee Braun was electrocuted while mowing a lawn with a homemade electric lawnmower.

Besides his parents Randy is survived by an infant sister and his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Flesner of Virginia.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Griffiths Funeral Home in Beatrice.

Klaver Denies Alleged Approaches About Bills

'Never In My Life,' He Says After Once Crying Before Inquiry

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

Sen. Sam Klaver of Omaha, Wednesday denied before the committee of the Legislature investigating "alleged improper practices" that he made questionable approaches to anyone in regard to legislation.

At the conclusion of his direct testimony, Klaver thanked the committee for "giving me a fair opportunity to tell my story". He will still be called for cross-examination by the committee Thursday morning.

"Never in my life," Klaver answered in a firm voice when asked if anybody had ever given him money, offered any or promised any benefits if he introduced a bill or did not introduce one.

A short time before a recess had been called when the senator became emotionally upset and started to cry after over an hour of questioning by his attorney, Frederick Wagener of Lincoln.

The questioning by Wagener followed the pattern that Rush Clarke, committee counsel, had used with other witnesses and provided little change except explanations of certain statements he was said to have made and a denial that he had sought to obtain any money personally.

"Very definitely," he said, he was seeking to obtain new means of revenue for the state. He admitted all the meetings testified to by other witnesses.

$100 Was "Bargainer'

"I never told anybody definitely I would introduce the bill," he said in regard to the bill to tax coin-vending machines. He explained that he was seeking information and suggested that the tax might be $100 because he expected that the industry would agree to accept a lower tax.

Klaver said that at the meeting in his office with Schoal Freed and Howard Ellis there was no mention of any payments to him. Freed had testified that there were, but was vague about any specific amount of money, and Ellis could not remember any such conversation.

Klaver said he was "positive" no such sums of money as $1,000, $1,500, $2,500 or $3,000 such as Freed became confused about were mentioned.

Klaver told about meeting with Jerome Witt, president of the Phonograph Operators Association, in an Omaha hotel where Witt tried to get him to promise not to introduce a tax bill and explained how it would wreck the industry. He said Witt inquired if they could hire him as their lawyer.

He testified that he told him he could not accept a commission because he was a member of the Legislature.

Slots Mentioned

Klaver said Witt mentioned "slot machines" and said they would "pay plenty" in taxes if they could be used. Klaver said he explained that they could not be legalized by the Legislature.

Conversations with Max Towle were substantiated by Klaver, who said Towle asked to see the bill and then took it away after the 20 day limit for introducing bills by individual members.

Klaver said Towle had not given him or promised him any money and that their conversations prior to the time limit for introducing bills had been very casual.

Klaver testified that he used a cigar tax and had drafted an oil and gas severance tax bill to raise the money for assistance and schools that he had planend to get with the juke box bill. He added that, in this session 111 bills had been drafted and not introduced.

It was while testifying in regard to LB 8, a bill regulating trailer courts, that Klaver broke down and cried.

Klaver corroborated the testimony of Dan Katzman about their visit to a number of trailer parks and the large number of servicemen he found living there. This he said caused him to change his mind on the bill.

Rogers Testifies

Dr. E. A. Rogers, state health director, earlier told of a conversation he had with Klaver during the 1953 session.

Rogers testified that Klaver went to see him about the pending case of Leon Schule of South Sioux City, pharmacist facing possible revocation of his license.

Rogers at the time was acting state health director and his position was not subject to confirmation by the Legislature.

"His first words after the initial greeting were 'How do you like your job?' " Rogers testified, telling of the visit from Klaver.

The health director said he told him that he liked it.

'Keep Your Job'

"Then he asked, 'You want to keep it, don't you?' " said Rogers. He testified that he told Klaver he wanted the permanent position.

"Then he proceeded to tell me that he had been retained by Mr. Schule," said Rogers.

Schule's license was revoked but later reinstated on appeal.

Klaver cross examined Dr. Rogers.

Bills were before the Legislature at the time to have appointment of the health director made by a proposed board of health.

Klaver, in his examination of Rogers said, "I have always supported you for the job. I always thought you were doing a good job. I didn't try to influence you, I only came down to find out what the situation was."

Ford Signs With Union

Reuther Appeals To Thousands Of Idle Workers To Return So Negotiations Can Proceed

DETROIT (AP) — The leaders of the CIO United Auto Workers said Wednesday that wildcat walkouts idling some 45,000 General Motors employes around the country are "sabotaging national negotiations."

They ordered the strikes ended.

More than 13,000 Ford Motor Co. employes also were off their jobs because of other unauthorized stoppages, boosting the day's walkout total to about 58,000 in nearly a score of widely scattered plants.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther and Vice President John W. Livingston said the walkouts were embarrassing them as they entered contract talks with General Motors Wednesday afternoon.

The two officers dispatched telegrams to local union presidents at all GM plants instructing them to do what they can to stem the tide of strikes.

Negotiations "Sabotaged"

"The unauthorized stoppages," they said, "have the effect of sabotaging national negotiations to the point where the entire membership suffers."

They added that General Motors will not negotiate on local issues where strikes are in progress.

"The entire principle of unionism, teamwork and mutual responsibility is at stake," the telegram read. "There can be no excuse for any leadership deserting these principles."

Reuther went into the GM talks after signing the far-reaching three-year agreement the UAW reached Monday with Ford. This gave Ford's 140,000 employes the first guaranteed wage plan in industry.

Both Reuther and Ford Vice President John S. Bugas called the contract a "historic agreement bringing new job security to Ford workers."

But while they praised the pact, a large segment of skilled workers at Ford's big Dearborn Rouge plant condemned it. Their objections stemmed mainly from the fact that skilled employes fell short of the 30-cent hourly wage boost they were asking.

The skilled workers were given raises of 8 to 18 cents an hour in addition to the 6 to 8 cents which unskilled workers were given.

Joining in the stoppage were machine repairmen and other maintenance men and 5,000 tool and die workers. About 8,000 Rouge workers in all were idle on the day shift.

The situation improved slightly with the night shift at the Rouge plant .The company said about half the scheduled 15,000 men were working.

Despite the objections of some Ford workers to their new contract, the UAW was pushing ahead with its demand for a wage plan for 350,000 GM workers that would equal or better Ford's. That one guarantees a laid off worker some 60 to 65 per cent of normal take-home pay, including state unemployment compensation for up to 26 weeks.

Tippery Improved; Jackson At Large

The condition of Thomas Tippery, 34, of 2300 So. 37th, was reported as "slightly improved" Thursday morning at Bryan Memorial Hospital.

Tippery, seriously wounded by police early Tuesday, failed to heed police orders to halt and was shot while running from the Moose Lodge at 6007 Havelock.

Police were investigating a tip that the lodge was being burglarized at the time of the shooting.

Another man, identified by police as Charles W. Jackson, 27, of Lincoln and a companion during the alleged burglary, was still at large, police reported.

Chamber View On Hospital May Change

Trip To Washington For 'Facts' Planned

The Lincoln Chamber of Commerce board of directors decided at a meeting Wednesday noon to send representatives to Washington to get further information about the possible joint use of the Lincoln Veterans Hospital by the Lincoln Air Force Base and the Veterans Administration.

Charirman John E. Curtiss of the special committee studying the matter and Vice President Chauncey E. Barney were requested to go, but final decisions were not made, according to Vice President Willard E. Townsend, who presided.

The Chamber decision was apparently the outcome of a Tuesday conference between the organization's special committee and Col. Claude Putnam, commander of the 818th Air Division and other Air Base officials.

Putnam expressed the idea that the VA hospital wouldn't do as an Air Force Base institution by saying that the base would need certain technical facilities which the Vets Hospital couldn't provide, and which would have to be located on the Base.

"After we reached a conclusion which we thought was logical," Townsend said Wednesday, "new information came to us indicating that all requirements of the Air Base might not be available at the Veterans Hospital. Consequently, we want to make direct contact with top level VA and Air Force officials to see what is the best manner in which to work out joint use of the Lincoln hospital, which seems to be the goal of all concerned", he stated.

Earlier, the Chamber had recommended that the VA continue operating the hospital, making available all needed facilities to the Air Force. Independently, in Washington, a proposal was made that the VA turn the hospital over to the Air Force, retaining only the use of 75 beds for veteran patients.

Occupants Right Car, Leave Scene

Occupants of a Thayer County car, apparently in a hurry, righted a turned-over car Wednesday night, threw an injured person inside and sped out of town before police could get to the scene.

A witness told police the car turned on its side at 10th and Oak and it appeared one of the occupants was injured.

The occupants righted the car, pitched the injured man in the back seat and was last seen speeding out of Lincoln on the Highway 6 by-pass.

City Short Of Funds For Planned Street Improvement Program

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

City funds were shown to be $552,788 short of meeting current street improvement needs, according to a report made by Public Works Director D. L. Erickson.

Erickson's report showed total city funds, gas tax and auto registration fees for 1954 and estimated for 1955, of $500,166, leaving $98,712 for other new projects.

However, the report contained a list of recommended improvements totaling $651,500. The program called for:

Asphalt Resurfacing projects::

1. Van Doren, 27th to Williams, $13,500.
2. D, 28th to 30th, $10,000.
3. 17th, F to Euclid, $35,000.
4. Vine, 27th to 33rd, $12,500.
5. Huntington, 52nd to 63rd, $19,000.
6. Cornhusker Hwy., 10th to 14th (including widening to 24 feet), $15,000.
7. 27th Y to Potter, $15,000.
8. 33rd, O to Randolph, $11,000.
9. 48th, Holdrege to Leighton, $13,000.

New pavement and roadway widening projects:

1. K, 17th to 21st, widen to 70 feet and repave (west section of the southeast diagonal city's 50 per cent share of the cost), $75,000.
2. O, 33rd to Cotner, widen to 50 feet and repave (federal aid project), city's 50 per cent of cost, $166,000.
3. Randolph, 37th to 48th repave 30 feet wide, city's 50 per cent share of cost, $46,000. (50 per cent of cost to be assessed against abutting property).
4. South, 30th to 60th repave to 38 foot width, city's share of cost, $200,000 (partial assessment against abutting property owners).
5. G, Capitol Ave. to 21st, widen to 40 feet, $9,000.
6. Van Dorn Williams to 33rd, pave 30 feet wide, $9,000.
7. 48th, Holdrege to Aylesworth, widen to 38 feet, $3,500.

Mayor Clark Jeary said he would appoint a City Council committee to study the street needs and recommend a plan for spending the $98,712 that is available. The entire recommended program of $508,500, Jeary said, would be a fine thing but it can not be afforded all at once.

The major commitment made against available funds was $303,484.78 as the city's share of the cost of the southeast diagonal, center section from 21st and K to 27th and D. In addition to this street money, the city is putting another $197,023.14 into the diagonal out of storm sewer funds for improvements to conduits along Antelope Creek.

On that project, the federal government will pay $500,458.42.

For a project related to the diagonal, the Randolph Street bypass, the city spent $171,681. On this project from 21st to 24th, the school district contributed $80,000.

Another $137,770 of city gas tax and registration fees is committed on subsidizing new paving where the width is beyond the standard 27 feet and for certain other street opening, widening and repaving projects.

Gas tax and registration fee receipts for 1955 were estimated at a total of $287,000. Added to this was the previous balance of $98,017 and 1954 combined receipts of $213,861.

Adenauer Praised By Ike

W. Germany Will Stand By Its Allies

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower declared Wednesday hig "utmost faith and confidence" in Konrad Adenauer and said the German chancellor "will stand by his allies and friends" in any conference with Russia.

Eisenhower also expressed to a news conference a willingness to stretch out a forthcoming big four chiefs of state meeting over any "period that is reasonable" rather than break it off at the end of three or four days. But he still insisted there must be some time limit, to allow him to meet his duties as President.

The United States, Britain and France have recommended that the conference be held in Geneva from July 18 to 21. Russia has not yet replied.

But the Soviets have proposed that Adenauer come to Moscow to talk about establishing diplomatic and trade relations with the West German republic.

Eisenhower appeared to regard this as a move to draw Germany away from her Western allies through gestures of friendship and good will. He opened his news conference by tieing the invitation to Adenauer to the establishment of the West German republic. He called the bid a "logical gesture."

"Now, of course," he said, "the decision of what's to be done about the invitation is exclusively that of the federal government of Western Germany, Chancellor Adenauer himself. The only point I want to make is that we know Chancellor Adenauer. We have the utmost faith and confidence in him, and we know one thing, that he will stand by his allies and friends."

And, he said, he is "not a bit" concerned over the possibility of the setting up of normal diplomatic relations between West Germany and Russia. He described Adenauer—who will be his luncheon guest next Tuesday—as "one of the great statesmen of the world," a "perfectly sound, solid citizen, and I trust him to take care of the interests of western Germany."

Points To Limits

While Russia has jumped on the idea of restricting the Big Four meeting to a specified number of days, Eisenhower said there are constitutional limitations on his going away and staying as long as he pleases. He mentioned the need for acting on legislation enacted by Congress.

The news conference kept going back repeatedly to Adenauer and the Big Four meeting. In between, it touched on these other topics:

Reserves — Eisenhower said the military reserve manpower bill, pigeonholed in the House after an anti-segregation amendment was tacked on, "is more essential than ever before to the security of the United States." He said it is vital, terrifically important, and "we just must have it."

Minimum wage — The President made it plain he still is holding out for boosting it from 75 to 90 cents an hour instead of a higher figure. The Senate shortly afterward passed a bill providing for $1 minimum.

Polio — The scientists now are all agreed on what must be done on the polio vaccine program, the President said, and "they are pushing it to do it." Something was lacking that had to be corrected, he said. Eisenhower praised Secretary of Welfare Hobby, accused by some Democrats of bungling the vaccine program. He said she was very wise in emphasizing safety and caution rather than mere haste.

Welker Calls Dope Issue 'Alarming'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Frank B. Berry, an assistant secretary of defense, testified Wednesday the problem of narcotics use by servicemen in the Far East is being "increasingly well handled."

But Sen. Welker (R-Idaho) called figures supplied by the Defense Department "alarming." He said that, in his opinion, "there has been a failure on the part of the armed services to cope with one of the most serious problems" they confront.

He said mothers and fathers were bound to wonder whether their son, if called into service, would become "a worthless drug addict."

Berry, testifying before a Senate Judiciary subcommittee investigating the drug traffic, assured Welker that the problem was of concern to "us all" and was being given careful consideration.

He made a six-weeks trip to the Orient last fall to study the situation and presented the subcommittee with a report prepared for him at the time by the office of the Army provost marshal in the Far East, a report with which he said he concurred.

OMAHA (AP) — Thirteen Nebraska groups and organizations judged outstanding in public services the past year Thursday were announced as recipients of Ak-Sar-Ben Good Neighbor Awards.

Selected as typical of the organized groups performing the most unselfish deeds without thought of financial or personal gain were two groups of Nebraska neighbors who extended a helping hand in time of emergency

They were the neighbors of Mrs. Bessie Divis of Schuyler, and the nighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Fern Braun of Nelson.

Mrs. Divis's neighbors in the Schuyler area took over the complete operation of her 200-acre farm for the entire season after the death of Mr. Divis.

When Fred Braun was left incapacitated following an operation, his neighbors in the Nelson and Superior area planted and harvested his crops for the remainder of the year.

Demos On TVA Board Revolt Against Dixon-Yates Contract

WASHINGTON (INS) — The House Appropriations Committee revealed Wednesday night that Democratic members of the TVA board of directors have revolted against the Dixon-Yates contract.

They overrode the protests of Chairman Herbert D. Vogel, an appointee of President Eisenhower, and urged upon the administration virtual cancellation of the controversial contract.

The action by the two Democratic members on the three-man board which directs the government's Tennessee Valley Authority occurred last March 7. However, it was only made public Wednesday night with the release of correspondence between the board and budget director Rowland Hughes.

Vogel wrote Hughes that TVA directors Harry A. Curtis and Raymond R. Paty voted over his objections to send a letter to the budget director. He revealed that a row followed the vote during which Curtis walked out on Vogel after the latter had directed him to sit down.

In their letter, Curtis and Paty recommended that the 6 and one-half million dollars requested by the President to construct transmission lines connecting the Dixon-Yates plants with Memphis, Tennessee, be used for another purpose.

The privately - operated $100 million plant would be constructed at West Memphis, Ark., across the Mississippi River from Memphis. Democrats have been opposing it.

The two Democrats asked Hughes to authorize them to present to the House Appropriations Committee a proposal to use the funds to begin construction by the TVA of a $90 million power plant at Fulton, Tenn. The administration favors the Dixon-Yates plant and a previous Congress rejected funds for the Fulton project.

Curtis and Paty wrote Hughes that this action would permit cancellation of the Dixon-Yates contract. They pointed out that Mayor Frank T. Tobey of Memphis has stated his city will not purchase power from the Dixon-Yates plant. The two directors asserted that without this market, the Dixon - Yates plant was unnecessary. The Dixon-Yates combine has a government contract, negotiated at the President's direction, to erect the plant.

The Public Works Appropriations subcommittee adopted the proposal of the two Democratic directors last Tuesday, voting to transfer the transmission line funds to the Fulton plant project. The action is subject to consideration of the full Appropriations Committee.

NEW YORK (AP) — A spokesman for the power combine building the controversial Dixon - Yates plant at West Memphis, Ark., said Wednesday, "We have not the remotest thought of turning back," despite hostile moves in Congress.

Edgar H. Dixon, president of Middle South Utilities Inc., one of two big private power companies building the plant for the Atomic Energy Commission, said he was not surprised at Tuesday's action by a House Appropriations subcommittee, which voted against granting the project 6½ million dollars in federal funds.

A Wire Jigsaw Puzzle

Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Co. workmen spent much of Wednesday frantically testing and splicing the 364 circuits ripped apart by a ditching machine six miles north of Lincoln. Telephone, teletype and long distance services were brought to a halt by the break. (Star Staff Photo.)

Wire Services Restored After Disruption From Cut In Cable

Telephone, television, radio and news wire service in and out of Lincoln was curtailed Wednesday when a transcontinental cable north of the city was severed.

Carrying 267 long distance telephone circiuts, 91 teletype and telegraph circuits, six radio circuits and television audito circuits, the line was cut by a trench digding company at 10:36 a.m. Full service of the cable was mostly restored by 6 p.m.

The break was made on the Everett Taylor farm six and one-half miles north of Lincoln on 14th. Ken Lawson, general commercial superintendent of Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Co., reported the situation was not of an "emergency" nature and that the outage was of no more than average proportions under such conditions.

The break forced Lincoln to make connection by telephone through Kansas City and through six circuits left open on East O to Plattsmouth and Omaha. However, telephone calls were being held up during the day by about 30 minutes, despite the Kansas City connection.

Important radio and news wire circuits were also routed through Kansas City on the company's north-south lead. TV and radio circuits were re-routed through Plattsmouth.

The telephone company rushed three repair crews to the scene of the break. Splicing of the big cable is a tedious job, done by matching tonal sounds of one line with the same sound at the severed end of another line.

More than 200 such matching jobs must be completed before the job is finished.

Jeary Thanks Dag For Lt. Cameron

Mayor Clark Jeary, as "one last favor" for Lt. Lyle Cameron, Wednesday wired Dag Hammarskjold, secretary - general of the United Nations, his thanks for the work Hammarskjold did in securing the freedom of Cameron and three other U.S. pilots who had been held by the Chinese Reds.

Cameron, who was welcomed home in Lincoln Tuesday, asked the mayor to send such a wire of thanks and to add a plea that efforts be continued toward the release of other Americans still held by the Reds.

The Lincoln lieutenant has several times expressed his concern for other prisoners and his gratitude for the work done by Hammarskjold.

'Hot Cargo' Case To Lincoln Court

Daniel Weinberg, attorney for the International Brotherhood of Teamsters (AFL), Wednesday removed a "hot cargo" case from the state Court of Industrial Relations.

The case now goes to Federal District court in Lincoln although it can be returned to the state court by the federal judge.

Bee Line Motor Freight, a Nebraska trucking firm with its main terminal at North Platte, had asked the state court of Industrial Relations, to issue a temporary order halting an alleged boycott against it by interstate carriers.

A hearing on the motion was scheduled for Thursday at 2 p.m.

Bee Line had charged that the teamsters union ordered the interstate carriers to boycott handling of its shipments on the "hot cargo" clause in their contracts.

Weinberg requested the removal to federal court on the grounds that the Taft - Harley 1947 Labor Relations Act, a federal statute, is involved.

Nelson Youngster's Condition Improves

A Study To End Studies

Sens. Joseph Martin of Grand Island, William Metzger of Cedar Bluffs and Amos Morrison of Scottsbluff are the sponsors of a resolution asking for a Legislative Council committee report on Nebraska highways.

Though belated, it is a step in the right direction.

We are inclined to think that the resolution falls short of getting at the heart of Nebraska's highway headache. Points Three and Four set forth in the resolution relate to revenue necessary for present and proposed improvements to the state highway system, and potential sources of revenue for highways. The two may be broad enough to do a workmanlike job, and if that is the case, then any criticism is unjustified.

When it comes to sources of revenue, however, the fair contribution which one of the heavy users of the roads should make is at this time largely a matter of guesswork. The trucking industry uses the roads. It feels that it now is contributing its fair portion of revenue for the construction and maintenance of the highways. What is a fair contribution from the truckers? It is a tough question to answer in the absence of definite information based upon the Nebraska scene itself. It may be impossible of determination. But at least we should try.

If the Legislative Council does undertake a study of Nebraska highways—and it should, regardless of the decisions by this Legislature now in session—it should be a study aimed at ending studies.

His Most Useful Years

Honors and distinctions are by no means new to Nebraska's pioneer conservationist, Dr. George E. Condra, who next Monday is to receive the Nebraska Builder's Award at the commencement festivities of the University of Nebraska.

It is so fittingly and deservedly bestowed this year upon a man who has spent a lifetime in encouraging the people of the state to better build and to preserve their basic resources. It is difficult to single out Dr. Condra's greatest contribution. A man of great physical energy, an ever-curious mind, it is not surprising that he has spent his entire life in investigation and reseach of the unknown. His painstaking study of Nebraska's underground water resources, however, was done with the thoroughness which makes it still an accepted standard work on the subject.

It is strange that only in the last four or five years, in the advanced years of Dr. Condra's life, although he still is active and vigorous, that the people of Nebraska cashed in, in the largest sense, upon his labor. The amazing expansion of well irrigation in a very large measure can be attributed to him, and to the faith which he instilled in the people out on the farms. Day and night in his travels over Nebraska he has been telling people for years of the state's vast underground water resources. And it has been in the last five years that Nebraska has made its most impressive advance in bringing many thousands of acres of land under pump irrigation.

We think of another great service Dr. Condra performed for Nebraskans, perhaps unnoted by them. His most useful years in our judgment, came during the 'thirties and its searing drought, during the absence of rainfall over a stretch of years, when people were pulling up stakes and moving elsewhere. It was then that Dr. Condra spoke encouraging words in scores of towns and rural communities to bring fresh hope and determination to people.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

On rare occasions, it appears, a cool, clear, unmistakable grass roots voice can make itself heard above the din of Washington's confusing undercurrents. That appears to be what happened when a House appropriation subcommittee dealt President Eisenhower's Dixon-Yates power project for TVA an unexpected but nevertheless deserved setback which may be of only a temporary nature or a stronger tonic for what seemed to be a lost cause.

★

Whatever it was that contributed to the subcommittee's decision, it was good. The news columns set forth that the subcommittee's action was apparently impelled in part by the announcement of Mayor Frank T. Tobey that the city of Memphis will not accept power from the Dixon-Yates plant and will if necessary construct its own power plant. There are more ways than one to skin a cat. Regardless of the wishes of the people of the Tennessee Valley, an attitude made unmistakably clear on occasions, Washington, with the President filling a leading role, seemed determined to force the Dixon-Yates project down the throats of the people TVA has served. It is not only the city of Memphis, a growing metropolitan community, that has been objecting to the Dixon-Yates project. Other Tennessee communities and the state of Tennessee itself have voiced sharp criticism. The contract between the Atomic Energy Commission and Dixon-Yates was negotiated a year ago at the specific direction of President Eisenhower. Objection to it locally and within Congress itself was based upon charges that its construction was an invasion of TVA's facilities and would cost the taxpayers more than the proposed TVA Fulton plant.

Mayor Tobey Speaks Out

What the House subcommittee did was to reject the President's request for $6.5 million in government funds to build transmission lines across the Mississippi River, connecting the $100 million plant to be constructed by Dixon-Yates with power lines in Memphis and other Tennessee communities. Equally significant, the subcommittee by a vote of 8 to 5 provided that the $6.5 million be utilized to begin work on a new steam power plant to be built at Fulton, Tenn., by TVA, a step previously rejected.

★

The matter now goes to the full appropriation committee, which may or may not sustain the action of its subcommittee. The time is ripe for a showdown. In an atmosphere of pomp and ceremony late last week, there was groundbreaking for Dixon-Yates. If the power which it would supply is to be forced upon TVA by the Eisenhower administration regardless of the wishes of the people TVA has served, then this Congress should speak without delay in sustaining the President's position. It cannot, however, force the city of Memphis to utilize Dixon-Yates power. That community does hold an ace card. It can build its own plant. Not only it but other Tennessee communities served by TVA can construct their own power facilities. Then the President, who with some heat has disclaimed any intention of dismantling TVA or harming its operations, will be forced to fish or cut bait. At some distance, Nebraska, nevertheless as a public power state has a direct interest in the struggle now taking shape. Our people are seeking a substantial loan from Uncle Sam, to be paid back in full as to interest and principal, for the construction of a transmission line from Ft. Randall in South Dakota to Grand Island. Thus far, although Nebraska's congressional delegation has been legging it in support of the pleas of Nebraska's people, there has been nothing stirring. And that delegation can hardly expect its voice to mean anything if when funds for other transmission lines, notably for Dixon-Yates, come up for vote, its members regardless of Nebraska's own interests vote to sustain the President's plan.

Time Ripe For Showdown

If a $6.5 million fund to feed Dixon-Yates power to TVA by construction of transmission facilities across the Mississippi River is to be forced upon the people of Tennessee, then why should Nebraskans anticipate that Uncle Sam should approve a $9 million federal loan to build a transmission line from Ft. Randall to Grand Island? Dixon-Yates represents something more than power plants. It is a symbol of the new Eisenhower policy in connection with these projects.

Hebron Scores

Hardship is a grievous experience and no one courts it. Nonetheless, there is a redeeming quality in it that frequently calls forth the strains of nobility both from man and from the community.

Nebraska has a current example.

Hebron, down in Thayer County, has dug down in its pocket and sent $1,800 to Udall, Kan., the community which two weeks ago was levelled by a tornado. The money is for the relief of the stricken and for the rebuilding of the town.

Hebron understands. Two years ago it was similarly stricken. In a few short minutes that peaceful, happy and prosperous community was knocked into patches of rubble. Many of its citizens were rendered homeless. Some lost their lives. Almost all took severe losses.

But it was a brave Hebron that arose from the blow. While neighboring communities moved in with men and money the stricken citizens turned to the immense task of restoring the damage. And with vision they set out to make something better than had been lost.

The story of Hebron is one of the brighter ones in the annals of Nebraska. The town lives today with bigger heart and better facilities.

And it rather adds a fine after-chapter to learn that such a town is among the first and most generous to extend aid and sympathy to a distant community similarly stricken. It is carrying on a great tradition that so nicely marks the region—one of unforgetting sympathy and true generosity.

New Jersey's Example

A hundred years ago Walt Whitman published his Leaves of Grass and ushered in a new age in American poetry.

This year in connection with the observance of the centennial of that event, the state of New Jersey, which several years ago acquired the Whitman home at Camden to preserve its historical significance as a shrine for lovers, plans to acquire additional acres at public expense and with park planning will provide a better setting for the house.

New Jersey is setting an excellent example for other states, all of which have places of historic or cultural interest going into decay and out of memory for lack of positive action for their preservation.

Nebraska is losing many landmarks of fascinating interest and historic importance. Not the least of these are the old territorial and pre-territorial trails.

Fortunately they are recorded in the archives of the State Historical Society, but for the average Nebraskan of today they are nameless and gone.

Trail marking by history-minded citizens would be an excellent avocation for Nebraskans, with results that would awaken all others to the Nebraska that once was.

Vaccine Sets Off Backstage Battle

WASHINGTON — The White House has been rocked by a backstage battle over how far Ike should stick his nose into the polio mess. Some advisers, anxious to use the President's prestige to quiet the polio hullabaloo, urged him to go on television to reassure the public. Others advised him to keep his hands off the controversy, to let his subordinates face the TV cameras alone . . . What worries the politicians is that the voters may blame the administration for the polio deaths caused by contaminated vaccine . . . Busiest backstage figure in the polio crisis has been Dr. Chester Scott Keefer, assistant secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, who was directly responsible for overseeing the program. Now chairman of the President's advisory committee on polio, he's squirming to get off the hook . . . Keefer was originally planted with H.E.W. by the American Medical Association . . . A high-powered public relations expert, Robert Kennedy, was brought into H.E.W. to whitewash the polio bungling . . . Cutter Laboratories, whose contaminated Salk serum caused most of the trouble, was the only producer which refused to build special facilities to produce the vaccine . . . another polio vaccine, which caused several polio deaths in 1934-35 tests, practically stopped all research on polio immunizing agents for 10 years . . . Government doctors believe polio vaccine can be improved so it can be administered without painful injections. They believe the injection, itself, can cause associated paralysis by localizing all the polio virus in the body around the injection. What the doctors hope to do is develop a serum that can be simply swabbed on the throat.

ADLAI WILL RUN

It was no accident that a rash of stories came out of Washington and Chicago recently that Adlai Stevenson would definitely run again.

As early as April 20 this column quoted Adlai's son Borden that his father would run. But the recent rash came from Stevenson's law partner and made it clear that whether Eisenhower runs or not, Stevenson will.

Various other Democratic candidates have been lying low, waiting to see whether Ike would run. But Stevenson has decided not to wait. In the first place, he doesn't think it's fair to the other Democrats, many of whom, such as Gov. Averell Harriman of New York and Gov. Mennen Williams of Michigan, are close personal friends.

Second, he thinks it's only fair to the Democratic party to have its potential line-up known well in advance, so as to require no last-minute fence-building as in 1952.

Finally, Stevenson tells friends quite frankly that he has a lot to learn. Despite his experience as governor of Illinois, as assistant to Naval Secretary Frank Knox, and his work in the State Department, he says he found he had a lot to learn during the 1952 campaign. So he's having sessions with such close friends as Arthur Schlessinger of Harvard and ex-Sen. Bill Benton of Connecticut to get ready for 1956.

Note: Most Democrat leaders figure Adlai will be hard to stop for the Democratic nomination, that the only man who might have a chance to do so is Sen. Kefauver of Tennessee.

MINKS IN REVERSE

It has been kept under wraps, but the Commerce Department's new deputy undersecretary, Brig. Gen. Thomas B. Wilson, has gone through the biggest government investigation since the days of mink coats, deep freezes and five percenters.

It was touched off by a Portugese firm called Atlantica, which threatened to bring sensational corruption charges against Wilson in connection with a $3,500,000 lawsuit. The company is suing the U. S. government for canceling a tungsten contract.

U. S. Government agents chased all over Europe, investigating the corruption charges. They finally dug up proof that the whole story was a fantastic blackmail plot and cleared Wilson's name in time for his promotion last month to deputy undersecretary of Commerce.

Here is the amazing, inside story:

Wilson was former U. S. procurement chief in Europe, at which time he was approached by two promotors who wanted to sell 720,000 pounds of tungsten a year to the U.S. strategic stockpile. The two international promotors, William Graham and Lewis Gordon, claimed the tungsten would come from a mine in Spain.

Since tungsten is vital to the production of jet engines, Wilson made a special inspection trip to Spain to size up the mine, and concluded it couldn't produce the promised tungsten. He recommended against the deal.

In revenge, Graham and Gordon signed an affidavit, charging that Wilson had met them in Madrid's Montestorial bar and had demanded a cut from the contract.

When all the furor and investigation was over, however, the U.S. agents discovered that Wilson was actually miles away from the Montestorial bar getting a suit tailored. They also discovered that Gordon, himself, who said he'd had a conversation in the bar, was actually playing chess several blocks from the bar at the time he was supposed to be talking to Wilson in the bar.

SECRET CONVERSATION

The clincher, however, was a recorded conversation the agents picked up over a secret mike in Gordon's room in the Cumberland Hotel in London.

This column has been able to obtain this conversation. It shows that a mysterious Spaniard, named Rafael Duran, stopped in to see Gordon. They talked about blackmailing General Wilson and double-crossing Gordon's partner, Graham.

Senate's Leaders Better Than Rated

WASHINGTON — The favorite indoor sport of the capital these days seems to be hurling brickbats at the majority and minority leaders of the United States Senate.

The White House is mad at Sen. Knowland because he is going over the country expressing views on foreign policy in opposition to the stands taken by the President. Americans for Democratic Action, the anti-Communist left, complains that Sen. Johnson's leadership of the Democrats is too conservative.

It is true that Knowland does not reflect the President's attitude on foreign policy and that Johnson does not run a temperature over matters which would incite a real New Dealer to action. A slight touch of arithmetic, however, plus a working knowledge of the 96 senators as they actually are rather than as their party labels describe them, shows that as leaders both men are doing rather a remarkable job.

For the voters, in their infinite wisdom, have in the past two congressional elections divided the Senate almost evenly. Knowland operated during the first two Eisenhower years with no majority at all. He had 48 Republicans and the vice president in case of a tie. Sen. Johnson has improved on this by the bare minimum; he has 49 Democrats to work with.

In that 49 are not only Southern conservatives and Northern liberals but men who wear their national party ties lightly indeed. In virtually every real contest, Sen. Holland of Florida is an unknown quantity whose capture must be mapped out by Johnson and his aides in scarcely less detail than the Normandy invasion. Both Holland and Sen. Byrd have voting records with a heavy GOP tinge and seem rather proud of it.

Sen. Eastland of Mississippi, who thinks very little seemingly of the way things are run here, including the Supreme Court, is also short on the club spirit. Sen. Kennedy of Massachusetts has been ill and absent until this week; on his return, he cast his first vote against the leadership. Sen. Murray of Montana has been in Europe the past six weeks.

There are certain personal animosities in this narrow majority as well. That they have not appeared openly goes on the Johnson credit list.

Johnson has one potential ally across the aisle, the unpredictable, really wild Bill Langer from North Dakota. Few others break from the GOP standard.

The late Sen. Taft solved a similar situation by making an alliance with the Southern conservatives. Johnson has got those same conservatives all home now, and by a more equitable distribution of committee places has created some astonishing new friendships, such as Sens. George and Humphrey.

If Johnson took an aggressive liberal stand, he would have the whole beehive around his ears. He has settled for clearing the calendar and has made compromises, producing in the process some astonishing demonstrations of party unity. This was almost making something out of nothing.

It has cost much enlightening debate. But the liberals cannot contend they have been silenced. They are a little spoiled, because the tide ran so strongly with them so long. Now, like the late George Norris did, the liberals must swim against it—and Johnson makes a handy scapegoat.

Sen. Knowland has also settled for routine in his minority role. If he pressed his own views there, he could stir up trouble, too. He is less aggressive than the White House would like but they have no real alternative.

It was the Johnson - Knowland leadership, too, that settled Sen. McCarthy's hash, not the White House, for which the public is grateful. Knowland in the end voted for him but he did consent to and help arrange the trial by McCarthy's peers.

MAN'S BEST FRIEND

Jealousy Turns To Affection

By ALLEN EDEE
Star Staff Writer

Buttons is no monkey with a cup. No sir, she is not a panhandler.

So if you see her carrying an empty coffee can around in her mouth, do not put a dime in it, just throw it.

Buttons is a natural born coffee can retriever. The owners, the Ernest Larkins of 6109 Benton, do not remember when she did not have a coffee can to play with.

But the pert white and black spotted dog not only carries the cans but also throws them up in the air just for the fun of it.

The tiny mutt throws her head back and shoves the can into the air with her nose.

The Larkins have found that Buttons will perform this special trick only in front of an admiring audience.

Her best friend is 17-months-old Michael Charles Larkins, a boy who arrived after Buttons was already attached in the Larkins household.

The dog was jealous of Baby Mike and followed Mrs. Larkins all over the house to see that she received her share of affection and attention.

Since Mike has learned to walk, however, the two love to play in the yard together. And Buttons takes keen interest in seeing that her charge is safe.

MRS. LARKINS, MIKE AND 'BUTTONS'
. . . a coffee can is her preferred toy . . .

Little Buttons' home life was unsettled in her early years.

Mrs. Larkins' sister first brought the dog home from the Humane Society and gave it to the Larkinses when she moved to another town.

When Ernest came back to Camp Funston near Junction City, Kan., to be discharged. Mrs. Larkins hurried to Junction City with Buttons to live with her husband.

The landlords failed to see the merits of Buttons and forced Mrs. Larkins to part with her canine, but only temporarily.

The dog was shipped back to Lincoln to live with Mrs. Larkins' parents while Ernest was being discharged. But Buttons could not get too lonely because the owners drove to Lincoln every week.

Now Buttons, Michael and Mr. and Mrs. Larkins live in a house with a yard that Buttons has almost to herself—except for Michael.

Buttons is really a fresh-air fiend. In fact, she never spends more than 15 minutes in the house at a time, and all last winter the dog slept out-of-doors in her dog house.

ED FITZHUGH

A Hole In One Is Poor Score

There is something about a hole in a sock that warps a man's personality.

The reason I wore the sock with a hole in it was that I did not notice the hole until I had the sock on, and I was already late for work.

Besides, the hole was on the instep, right where the top edge of the shoe's tongue ought to hide it, and I was sure nobody could see it.

Then in the flurry of getting away from home and catching the bus, I forgot about it. It did not come to mind again until I was safely seated on the bus. Ah—a few minutes to relax! The bus was not crowded. I sat on the end of my spine and stretched my legs out in front. My eyelids dropped. My glance rested on my shoes.

With slow, incredulous horror, I saw it then! A subversive little crescent of flesh glowing through the hole, just above the tongue of the shoe. In the fraction of a second while I stared, the little patch of white seemed to take on a luminously that made it the brightest thing in that whole bus. Its shine was akin to that of clean ears at a Sunday School picnic.

I jerked upright in the seat. Hastily I tucked my feet far back under the cushion, glancing around to see if anyone had noticed. The blonde in the seat across the aisle was smiling in a superior way. Of course, it may have been the book she was reading, but just the same I was suspicious. Ha! I thought, I'll bet you've had holes in your socks, too! I looked to see if she had one now. She saw me looking, and misunderstood. I blushed and stared hard out the window.

At the office, people looked up with the usual greetings when I came in. I stopped just inside the door and tugged my trousers lower on my waist, so the cuffs would hang down farther over the shoe tops. I bent my legs a little at the knees and glided across to the sanctuary of my desk. The man across the way looked up. He said, "What's the matter? Lumbago?"

"It's my ankles," I explained quickly. "Rheumatism!"

He looked at my ankles, and I knew I shouldn't have called attention to them. I crouched, and slid hastily into my chair.

☆ ☆ ☆

The desk, I thought, would hide my shame. For a while I was at ease. Then I got to wondering if the desk really did offer protection from prying eyes. After all, there was a foot of open space under the shield at the back of the knee hole. Enough to see a man's feet!

I wish people would mind their own business. When I went around to find out if anyone could see under the shield, three people came over to help me find whatever I had lost. I told them hastily that it didn't matter, and sat down again.

I didn't mind keeping that one foot propped up near the top of the desk the rest of the day, although it cramped my muscles some to hold it there, and it did not harm me materially to do without lunch. What bothered most was the way people stared when I went home that night.

You'd think they must have seen men before wearing a paper sack over the shoe of one foot.

Storage Tips

Curtis, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The wheat harvest is near at hand. Storage must also receive attention. A farmer will be wise to store his own if he keeps it clean. There are three enemies working to foul the grain. They are weevils, birds and rodents. There is an easy way to eliminate each. Weevils can be eliminated by cleaning the bins with grain fumigants. Rodents can be controlled by commercial products for that purpose. Birds are the easiest. They will not go to a bin if mothballs are placed around it. Then if the government inspectors will be strict with exporters, our wheat will become more desirable with importing nations.

We have it within our power to do something to prevent the accumulation of large surpluses. We should do it.

NO RACER

Yes, the car is built for speed.
Horse-power I can boast of—
More than I shall ever need
Or employ the most of.
Come on, stranger! Pass me by
If you're in a hurry.
Race it out with you? Not I.
Also I won't worry.

I could beat you, mile for mile.
That we both are knowing,
But I'd rather sit and smile
As by me you're going.
Get along and pass me by,
But I should remind you
Safer I will be if I
Drive a bit behind you.

I will clear the way for you,
Willingly and gladly.
That I'm quite content to do
Than start driving madly.
Unembarrassed I will let
You become the winner,
And I'll even hope you get
Safely home for dinner.

Native Nebraska Writer Seeks Return Trip To USSR

Anna Strong Also Desires Visit To China

WASHINGTON (AP)—Anna Louise Strong, 69-year-old leftist writer arrested and deported from Russia in 1949 on charges of espionage and "diversionary activities," said she wants to go back to the Soviet Union.

She told a news conference that Soviet Ambassador Georgi Zarubin entertained her at an "excellent" embassy luncheon and personally assured her of a visa if the state department will grant her passport request.

"Maybe I'll get it and maybe I won't," she said, "but I'll keep on trying until I do get a passport.

Born At Friend

(A native of Friend, Neb., Miss Strong was the daughter of a Congregational minister. She studied in Germany and Switerland, attended Bryn Mawr for a year and received her A.B. degree from Oberlin College. She was granted a Ph.D. degree from the University of Chicago at the age of 22.)

Miss Strong said she also asked the State Department for permission to visit Communist China to write magazine articles and possibly a book.

Only last March Moscow announced that spy charges had been dropped against the writer —a former managing editor of the English language "Moscow Daily News." Pravda blamed Lavrenti P. Beria, executed chief of secret police, for the incident.

Miss Strong, who denies she is a Communist, says she feels no disillusionment about the Soviet system because of one case of injustice. "There is injustice everywhere," she added.

Asked if she feared a second arrest, the Los Angeles writer replied: "From the amount of scandal it caused through the rest of the world, I don't think they will do that again."

She said that Soviet foreign policy is changing because Russia feels "more secure than it has in the past."

She predicted a conference on Formosa between Red China Premier Chou En-lai and Secretary of State Dulles will be held soon.

She recalled waltzing with Chou in Yenan years ago before the Communists came to power.

Sidney Gas Plant Valuation Figure Hiked To $103,255

SIDNEY, Neb. (AP)—Cheyenne County Assessor Roy Gish has increased the valuation of the Ginther-Warren-Ginther Gas Extraction Plant in the Dorman field west of Sidney from $2,000 to $103,255. He said he and three members of a scientific appraisal firm checked the GWC plant for two days.

Gish said he called up the appraisers after he had been refused a set of blueprints of the plant. The $2,000 figure had been supplied for a number of years by company estimates, he said.

Gish estimated the county's valuations will total more than 50 million dollars this year. Last year the figure was $49,694,175. Since then several new plants associated with the oil industry have been put up.

Theater Owners Defend Showing Of 'Banned' Movie

OMAHA (AP) — Archbishop Gerald T. Bergan of the Omaha Catholic Archdiocese has placed the Airport Drive-in Theater at nearby Carter Lake, Ia., "off limits" to Catholics for the next 90 days.

The action came in connection with a motion picture, "Sons of Sinbad."

In a letter read to Catholic churches in the archdiocese covering 23 northeast Nebraska Counties, Archbishop Bergan "noted an alarming increase in objectionable films causing great anxiety among Catholic hierarchy."

Theater owners, in a paid advertisement Wednesday morning, said notice of the action was not received until late last week and that with contracts signed it would result in a great financial loss to cancel the picture.

They said the picture had been screened before booking and that "there is absolutely nothing offensive to good taste or morals in the entire picture."

Gavins Point Ceremonies Postponed

NORFOLK, Neb. (AP) — The ceremonies marking the closure of Gavins Point Dam on the Nebraska-South Dakota line have been postponed about a month.

An exact date has not been set but this will be announced by the Yankton Chamber of Commerce, which is arranging the actual ceremonies.

There had been some thought that the ceremonies could be in the first week in July, but sponsors now anticipate that they will be around Aug. 1.

Joseph C. Patterson, project engineer on the Gavins Point, said work is progressing on schedule.

Last month Brig. Gen. W. E. Potter, Missouri River division engineer, said the closure had been tentatively scheduled for the last half of July, and announced that barge lines and operators of municipal waterworks would be notified about six weeks in advance.

At that time Gen. Potter said the closure might be the week-end of July 23-24, a week earlier or a week later.

Harrison Believes Ike Will Run Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Harrison (R-Neb) has joined the list of those who believe President Eisenhower will run again in 1956.

Harrison said that as a soldier for 40 years President Eisenhower's "ingrained sense of devotion to duty will compel him to seek re-election."

The Nebraska Congressman said Eisenhower "has accomplished tremendous deeds during his tenure in the White House."

"Dwight Eisenhower, as a soldier, educator, or statesman, never faced a greater challenge than the President," Harrison said. "He is winning the battle, and he is not going to quit halfway through it."

Baseball Varies Club Activities For Farm Wives

Lincoln Star Special

STROMSBURG—The Good Will Neighborhood Birthday Club decided they would do something different at their next meeting than just visit.

Came the day...They did...attired in jeans or overalls, they played a game of baseball. Incidently the pitcher of one of the teams had her right arm in a sling, but her "left" pitching showed remarkable ability.

Most of the group are middle-aged farm housewives who hadn't played a game of baseball for years.

Disease Affecting Antelope Plants

Plant pathologists at the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture reported the finding of a disease which is killing some vetch plants in Antelope County. Samples of the disease were brought to the laboratory for study.

The pathologists, together with other college staff members, also reported that few fields of oats in northeastern Nebraska can be classed as good. Uneven stands were observed in Stanton, Madison, Pierce, Cedar, Dixon and Dakota Counties. Some of the oats fields are being plowed up and put to corn.

Plants showing typical symptoms of virus disease red leaf were also found throughout northeastern Nebraska. Several plants showing mosaic-like symptoms were also noted.

Some leaf rust along with stem rust was found near Dorchester in one field.

A $413,940,000 Stake in Steak!

With a beef cattle population of 4,318,000 head as of January 1, 1955, Nebraska ranks second among all the states in the number of range cattle; and second in the number of cattle on feed.

Sales of beef cattle in 1954 amounted to $413,940,000—accounting for approximately 40 per cent of the state's total farm income, which has topped one billion dollars annually for each of the last five years.

It's easy to see, then, why Nebraskans have such a tremendous stake in steak—and why Nebraska farmers and ranchers make it their business to keep abreast of the latest developments in beef production.

For nearly 100 years, they have found the Nebraska Farmer one of their most reliable and up-to-date sources of authentic information—not only in its editorial, but in its advertising columns.

That's why the Nebraska Farmer is read, re-read, discussed around the dinner table, and often filed for future reference in more than nine out of ten farm homes in Nebraska.

Dr. Condra To Get Nebraska Builder Award

Dr. George E. Condra, one of Nebraska's pioneer conservationists, and dean emeritus of the Conservation and Survey Division, and former State Geologist, Monday will receive the Nebraska Builder award, the highest non-academic honor bestowed by the University of Nebraska.

J. LeRoy Welsh of Omaha, president of the Board of Regents, will present the award at the University's 84th annual Commencement exercises at 10 a.m. in the Coliseum.

In making the announcement, the Regents said Dr. Condra was selected because of his contributions to the University and State of Nebraska.

Dr. Condra completed 52 years of service with the University this fall, when he retired as active head of the Conservation and Survey Division. One of Nebraska's most ardent boosters, he was chiefly responsible for the establishment of the Division, which conducts a vast program of research in the natural resources of the state.

It is difficult to mark the beginning of Dr. Condra's influence on the State of Nebraska. A native of Iowa, he came to Nebraska to complete his undergraduate work at the University. He received his Bachelor of Science degree in 1897. By teaching in Lincoln High School, he was able to finance his advanced education. By 1902 he had completed his Doctoral degree and promptly joined the University staff in geography and economic geology.

He was made chairman of the conservation and geological survey department, and in 1928, was advanced to the position of dean of the department. His work, which was largely concerned with survey and research, included the state soil survey, state geological survey, road materials, water resources, state forestry work, town and institutional planning, industries survey, photographic work, and an information bureau.

His devotion to Nebraska has made him a recognized authority on the soil and water conditions and problems of every corner of the state. There are few sections of Nebraska land that he has not inspected first hand. Dr. Condra says that he has been on every farm in Nebraska.

During his early years at the University, he assisted in organizing the Innocents Society, a senior men's honorary activity group, and played an important role in the development of the modern athletic department at the University and served as chairman of the Board of Intercollegiate Athletics.

Uncontent to limit his energies to college life, Dr. Condra explored the state on weekends and vacations to learn more about Nebraska's soil and water resources. Before 1910, he had impressed the Nebraska's first water resources win a small appropriation to help finance field studies.

Out of these efforts emerged Nebraska's first water resuorces reports and the Conservation and Survey Division.

Dr. Condra has accumulated the honors of the scientific world and has discovered and named more geological formations of Nebraska than any other man.

Nearly 900 University of Nebraska students will receive degrees at the commencement exercises Monday. Speaker will be Dr. Edward C. Elliott, president emeritus of Purdue University and graduate of the University of Nebraska.

Petition Campaign Planned For New Falls City Schools

FALLS CITY, Neb. (AP)—The Parent-Teacher associations here plan a petition campaign for new elementary school buildings.

Mrs. E. R. Baker, president of the PTA council, said that if it appears enough people are in favor of the new buildings, the petitions will be presented to the board of education with the recommendation that a special election be held.

The approximate figure of $500,000 for new buildings will be included in the petitions.

Falls City residents rejected a school bond issue in 1947.

STAN DELAPLANE'S POSTCARD

After some years of bombarding me with "How to Raise a Dog" books, the New York publishers switched suddenly this year to cookbooks.

I get Italian cookbooks from Random House. Waterfront cookbooks from Doubleday. How to fry eggs. How to heat up a frozen TV dinner. How to boil coffee. How to make Bearnaise sauce. How to take the lumps out of hollandaise. I could start a restaurant.

I will say it is gratifying. To be lifted from the kennel into the kitchen. I do not know how this came about. No word came to me. I simply opened the latest cardboard case expecting "Man's Best Friend CAN Be Rid of Fleas." Instead out popped a lively volume on cake mix.

It has been going on almost daily ever since.

☆ ☆ ☆

Well, gentelemen, you will find me a versatile subject. There is hardly a more handy man with a can opener, I imagine. I am ready to switch from kibble to pie crust. Let's see.

"Take two eggs and separate the yolks from the whites . . ."

This is the part that always throws me. I wonder if it isn't possible to get hens that lay eggs with separate yolks and whites. You would think that would be possible. The way they breed chickens these days.

Just the other day I was up country and they had chickens they were breeding for all-white meat. And if I told you what they go through to get those pheasant-chickens, you wouldn't believe me.

They should be able to get two classes of chickens. I should think. One would lay eggs that were all whites and the other all yolks. That would simplify the whole thing.

☆ ☆ ☆

The way I learned to separate the yolks and the whites was by holding the yolk in the shell while you poured off the white real carefully.

This is almost impossible unless you have very steady nerves. If you shake the least little bit, slurp! There goes the yolk. Once the yolk has gone, you have little chance of getting it back.

Another way is to pour the whole egg in your hand. You let the white sort of trickle through your fingers while you hold the yolk very, very tenderly.

What a gooey job that is! Nerve-wracking too.

☆ ☆ ☆

This seems to me the trouble with cookbooks. They start out by assuming you have the hands of a brain surgeon. I can hardly get soft-boiled eggs into the cup without dropping in bits of shell throughout.

"Separate the yolks from the whites . . ."

I am whipped right at the outset. Is there any way that you could just let them sit? Maybe the yolks would separate from the whites by themselves? I suppose not.

It does not matter that from there on everything is simple. You beat and sift and roll out and salt and fold in. It is a good deal like the dog books you you used to send me.

"Remember, your dog wants to obey." That is the way they started out. My problem was my dog could not read. He didn't know that he wanted to obey. Once the dog knew he wanted to obey, it was eggs in the coffee. You could teach him to sit up and retrieve the morning paper. But until he knew it, he wouldn't do a thing.

That is the point I am at now. After volume after volume of dog books. We just never got off the ground.

That is the point I am at with my two eggs. Yolk and white, inseparable. All the goodies lie beyond this point. And here I stand with a handful of unseparated egg. What do I do now?

It seems to me we should have a beginner book. Maybe accompanied by a perforated page you could tear out. You could pour the egg on this page and the white would drift through. Leaving the yolk on top.

This would have an added advantage. Every time you wanted to make that recipe, you would have to buy a new book. To get the egg-separating page. Just a little idea that came to me among the egg shells. I have not separ

Bonn Political Pressure Builds On Adenauer To Accept Moscow Invitation

BONN, Germany (AP) — Political pressure built up on Chancellor Konrad Adenauer Wednesday to accept a Soviet invitation for him to visit Moscow. Three parties—the Free Democrats and Refugees of his government coalition and the opposition Socialists — urged him to make the trip to discuss establishment of diplomatic and trade relations.

A spokesman said the Bonn government welcomes the Soviet proposals and hopes talks between Adenauer and the Kremlin's leaders "will become feasible," but would not take place before a top level Big Four meeting proposed by the West for July 18-21.

Close associates said the 79-year-old Chancellor is reluctant to go to Moscow now—and in any case wants to talk first with President Eisenhower and other Allied leaders.

The government made plain that it is consulting with the Western Allies on any points in the Soviet note, received via the German embassy in Paris Tuesday night, that would affect Bonn's relations with them. Agreements with the United States, Britain and France bar West German negotiations directly with Russia either to reunite Germany or conclude a peace treaty.

Adenauer leaves Sunday for the United States, where he is to meet the President and the Western Big Three foreign ministers. The following Sunday he is to stop off in London on his return trip to see Prime Minister Eden.

While West German newspapers used such phrases as "the most sensational diplomatic move since the end of the war" to describe the Russian offer, the Free Democrats said Adenauer had no choice" but to accept.

Acceptance Predicted

The second largest party in his four-party coalition, the Free Democrats said Adenauer, "possessing the unique confidence of our Western partners," is the only man who can undertake the task of bridging the gap with the East without causing misunderstanding.

The Refugee Party predicted Adenauer will accept after consulting the Allies.

The Socialists came out firmly for acceptance as the way to Germany's reunifcaiton. They said the offer would test the readiness of the government to negotiate with Moscow for reunion.

Adenauer's own Christian Democrats (CDU) and the Small German Party (DP) were more cautious in their approach.

The CDU said the note would need careful study and it was too early to take a final stand. The party warned that Moscow would be "making a fundamental mistake in assuming it can separate the (West German) Federal Republic from the West."

The party, and most government-supporting newspapers, said the Moscow offer was a triumph for Adenauer's policy of close alliance with the West.

Turning Point?

Diplomatic circles in Bonn regarded the Moscow bid as possibly a turning point of the cold war and a favorable result of the granting of West German sovereignty a month ago.

In Paris, a French foreign ministry spokesman said the invitation marked an easing of tension in the cold war. He said it was not a complete surprise to the French government in view of what he called the realistic policy the Russians have been following recently.

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov is stopping over in Paris Thursday on his way to the United States for a United Nations meeting opening June 20 in San Francisco and may talk over the German situation with French officials. He is to be a luncheon guest of French Premier Edgar Faure and Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay.

Complete Faith

In London, a spokesman told a news conference the Eden government has complete faith in Adenauer's wisdom and is not worried about what would happen if the German chancellor conferred with Soviet leaders.

In Bonn, it had long been anticipated that an attempt would be made to set up diplomatic relations with Russia after West Germany was sovereign and able to do so.

The Bundestag (Lower House) broke off its session for an hour Wednesday morning to allow the parties to confer on their atitude toward the Soviet note.

Then Adenauer broke the news to his cabinet. But no immediate decision was made. It was the first meeting attended by the new foreign minister, Heinrich Von Brentano, and the new defense minister, Theodor Blank, who were sworn into office Wednesday.

Communist East Germany moved cautiously in commenting on Moscow's bid for diplomatic relations with West Germany.

Friedrich Ebert, the mayor of East Berlin, hailed Moscow's invitation and said it was "an earnest effort to hinder a war on German territory, a war which would be more terrible and disastrous than all preceding wars."

The entire German people, he told the East Berlin Parliament, are waiting hopefully for Adenauer to accept.

Ebert said the Soviet Union made its move from "an unconquerable position" of strength. He attributed some of the strength to the recent Warsaw conference where the Soviet Union and its satellites decided to establish a unified military command.

East Berlin newspapers front paged the story of the invitation, but offered no comment. The inside pages carried the usual vitriolic attacks on the West German government.

Residents Protest Night Crawlers— —The Kind That Carry Flashlights

That fascinating pastime of fishermen, hunting for night crawlers, is not very popular with some Lincoln property owners.

Night crawlers — king of fish worms — are hunted with a flashlight. When the hunter spies a fat crawler sprawled out on the ground he grabs the worm in a flash before it can scoot back into its hole.

However, property owners in the vicinity of 50th and Adams do not view the evening hunts with any enjoyment. They have complained to The Star that hte lights flashing around at night are a nuisance and that the hunters have almost destroyed lawns in the area, even crawling high fences ot enter private yards.

As one property owner put it, "I spent $289 on a fence to keep my dog in, but I can't keep the worm hunters out."

This man pointed out that the trespassers were doing far more damage to his yard than his dog could possibly do to lawns and gardens.

Legislature Kills Police Civil Service Bill

The Legislature Wednesday killed the policemen's civil service bill by "unanimous consent" when the measure came up for advancement to final reading.

The measure, LB 294, introduced by Sen. Joseph Martin of Grand Island, would give policemen in cities of the 5,000 to 40,000 population class the same civil service status which firemen have in those cities.

Sen. Lee of Fremont, who opposed the bill, asserted: "There is a difference between policemen and firemen."

"The mayor should have more control over the police department. The one responsible for police protection should have complete control," Lee declared.

Martin said Fremont was the only city objecting to the bill.

"We must keep in mind that we either want police out of politics or in politics," he added.

Lee's principal objection was that the bill set up no qualifications for policemen going under civil service.

"You know from reading the papers the trouble that Sioux City, Ia., has had," Lee added.

Martin first succeeded in recalling LB 294 from the enrolling room where it was being prepared for final passage with the idea of amending it to provide that police would be under civil service only by vote of the people rather than by decision of the city council.

Then he asked "unanimous consent" of the Legislature that the bill be "indefinitely postponed." There was no objection and there the bill died.

American Airlines Orders 35 Turboprop Planes

WASHINGTON (AP) — American Airlines announced Wednesday the placing of an order for 35 four-engine turboprop planes, the first American challenge to British leadership in the commercial jet-with-propeller field.

The Lockheed Aircraft Corp. will make them, for 65 million dollars.

The two companies said delivery of the new airliner, to be called the Lockheed Electra, will begin in the latter part of 1958. All 35 planes are to be delivered by mid-1959.

The announcement was expected to cause other airlines, some of which have been sriously considring purchase of Britain's Vickers Viscount, to re-examine U.S. product possibilities.

The joint statement from American and Lockheed said the Electra is of "completely original design." It will have a cruising speed of more than 400 miles an hour, the companies said, giving it "a speed advantage of 100 miles per hour over the fastest turboprop commercial airliner in service today." In a turboprop plane, jet engines are used to drive propellers.

2,000 Mile Range

Although classed as a medium sized plane, the Electra will have a cruising range of 2,000 miles. It is likely it would be most useful on long but not transcontinental flights, such as New York-Chicago and Chicago-Los Angeles. It will seat 64.

The Viscount turboprop was introduced into airline service by British European Airways in April, 1953.

It has a range of 1,700 miles, a cruising speed of 320 miles an hour, and in flight is generally considered the quietest and smoothest-flying airliner now operating.

Air France and the Irish Airline, Aer Lingus, also have been using Viscounts in Europe. Trans-Canada Air Lines introduced the turboprop to North America early in April, and operates Viscounts between Toronto and New York as well as over its Canadian routes.

Vickers cracked the U.S. market for the first time in June, 1954, with a $67 million order from Capital Airlines for 60 Viscounts. Deliveries, initially planned for early this spring, have been somewhat delayed and Capital Viscount Service is now scheduled to begin late in July.

Body Found

EDMONTON, Alta. (AP)—A sixth body was discovered at the scene of a fatal air crash 10 miles west of here.

Associated Airways Ltd. officials, owners of the plane, said the victim was Eldon Johnston, 23, of Edmonton, a machanic's helper.

Johnston was one of four company employees "along for the ride" when the twin-engined Lockheed crashed and burned in a clearing on the Winterburn Indian Reserve. The pilot and co-pilot also were killed.

Both Irrigation, Power Use Of Loup Water Is Threatened

A meeting of Loup River irrigators with Gov. Anderson Wednesday raised the possibility that it may not be possible to use Loup water for both irrigation and generation of electric power.

The State Irrigation Bureau has notified irrigators pumping water from the Loup system to cease the operation June 20.

The Loup River Public Power District which has a plant at Columbus and has senior rights to the water requested the irrigation bureau to act.

Must Pay

The power district has agreed, however, to let irrigators have water if they pay for it.

John Evans, Broken Bow attorney, representing about 450 irrigators, said at Wednesday's meeting there is no reason why other power plants on the Loup with senior rights cannot also demand payment for irrigation water.

"That would do away with irrigation completely in the Loup Basin," Evans declared.

Spalding Call

At this point Sen. Bahensky, Palmer, reported a call from Mayor Bernard Berick of Spalding who said that town will ask payment for irrigation water used. Spalding claims senior rights to most of the irrigators.

It was decided at Wednesday's meeting that the irrigators will meet with officials of the Loup District in an attempt to set up studies of the Loup Basin water situation.

The study might go as far as challenging the feasibility of the Loup Power District, Attorney Ivan Evans of Broken Bow suggested. He added that the District's storage facilities are silted full and it has financial trouble.

"It might be a question of whether the attorney general should take over the district and liquidate it," Evans said.

In answer to a question by Sen. K. W. Peterson of Sargent, Irrigation Bureau Director Dan Jones said there would be plenty of water for all Loup irrigators if the Power District's plants were eliminated.

Jack Romans of Ord said that if the choice for use of Loup water comes, "We all know this state is built on agriculture and not on power production."

Romans said the city of Ord also has been ordered to quit pumping its domestic water supply from the Loup or to pay the power district for the water.

Les Horn of Oconto, president of the irrigators organization, said farmers feel the Loup District does not want the water for power generation at all. "They just want the money for the water," he said.

Eidom successfully pushed passage of a constitutional amendment giving the Legislature authority to change the method of taxing grain. The proposal will be put to a vote of the people next year.

Gang-Slaying Victim Blankenship Not 'Model Boy'

. . . WAS A 'REDWING' SPOILING FOR A FIGHT; 'TARZAN' WINS LENIENCY

NEW YORK (AP) — A teen-aged youth gang slayer won leniency Wednesday after the state surprisingly came to his aid by demolishing the "model boy" reputation of his victim.

The slain boy, 15-year-old William Blankenship Jr., was depicted by Bronx Asst. Dist. Atty. Andrew C. McCarthy as himself a gang organizer who went to his death April 30 "spoiling for a fight."

"The deceased was not quite the innocent boy certain channels of information wished us to believe," McCarthy said. He added that he didn't think a jury would convict for premeditated murder under the circumstances.

Guilty Plea

As a result, Blankenship's slayer, 17-year-old Frank (Tarzan) Santana, was allowed to plead guilty to second degree murder. It carries a penalty of 20 years to life. Sentencing was set for July 15.

Santana had been about to go to trial for first degree murder, punishable by death in the electric chair.

Before McCarthy made his coldly dramatic reappraisal of the case, young Blankenship's father had also besought mercy for Santana from Bronx County Judge William Lyman.

'What Son Wanted'

"This is what my loving son, Billy, would have wanted," said the senior Blankenship, who had been pictured as an earnest fighter against juvenile delinquency in the Bronx.

Blankenship had left the courtroom before McCarthy launched his attack on the dead boy's "model" reputation.

Later, the father said he had asked his son pointblank whether he traveled with a gang.

"He assured me that he did not," the elder Blankenship added. It is very easy to attack those who have been sacrificed."

Young Blankenship was shot down by Santana in a quiet residential section of the Bronx in a slaying that shocked the entire city.

Called 'Senseless Killing'

At the time, police depicted Santana as a wild, irresponsible hoodlum who senselessly shot down a quiet, studious youth. Blankenship was not knwon to have been mixed up with juvenile gangs and his death appeared to be the result of a chance encounter with Santana and prowling members of his "Navajo" gang.

McCarthy's superior, Bronx Dist. Atty. Daniel V. Sullivan, himself had termed the slaying a "senseless killing." He accused Santana and his gang of invading a quiet neighborhood where they did not belong.

However, it was an entirely different version that McCarthy gave in court Wednesday. Said the prosecutor of Santana:

"This 17-year-old defendant had no record of any kind before this, except for a little truancy, and there was nothing in his background or behavior of anything reprehensible."

Long Way From Home

McCarthy then said of young young Blankenship:

"The facts in this case do not conform to the popular concept of what happened in this case. Many statements have been made by irresponsible people.

"It is a known fact that young Blankenship professed himself to be a member of the Redwings and tried to induce other members at his school to join the gang.

"He went a long distance from home that day, spoiling for a fight.

"Billy Blankenship is dead. His father characterized this as a terrible crime and I agree with him. But I must and I would like to, because of the community attitude built up here, give these facts which I have gathered from a careful investigation of this case.

"With all due deference to the misguided, irresponsible bits of news given to the press, radio and television, I know and I hope that these great estates will, in good conscience, correct the facts."

McCarthy said a gang fight was brewing and that young Blankenship was in the thick of preparations for it. Furthermore, he added, it was Blankenship who approached Santana and his cohorts in a challenging manner.

AN Dspeaking of guests — Mrs. Robert Rath and her three children, Susan, Gregory and Patrick, have arrived from Phoenix, Ariz., to spend the summer in Lincoln as the guests of Mrs. Rath's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Bize—We're guessing that Susan, Gregory and Patrick will be mighty interested in that six ton elephant Mr. Bize shot in Africa during a trip around the world the past winter.

Natalie Nelson Is Bride

MRS. RONALD CLARK

With a white satin reredos forming the center decor, the chancel of Westminster Presbyterian Church was appointed with pedestal arrangements of white carnations, combined with white stock and gladioli, and lighted candles in seven-branched holders for the wedding of Miss Natalie Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loren William Nelson, and Ronald Ray Clark, son of Mrs. Charles Edmond Clark of Ravenna, and the late Mr. Clark, which took place on Wednesday evening, June 8. Lemon leaves clustered the candles that marked the white carpeted processional aisle.

The Rev. Rex Knowles solemnized the 8 o'clock ceremony and Miss Josephine Waddell, organist, played the wedding music and accompanied Miss Diane Knotek, the vocal soloist.

The all white costumes of the attendants, including Miss Gerdi Hord of Alliance, the maid of honor; Miss Ann Beynon, Miss Carol Gifford, Miss Philomene Dosek, Miss Jane Aistrope of Glenwood, Ia., and Miss Marilyn Bourck of Plattsmouth, the bridesmaids, were fashioned of Schiffli embroidered Swiss organdy, and designed with elongated bodices, in which deeply squared necklines slipped into brief sleeves, and short, exceedingly wide skirts sashed at the hipline with softly pleated silk. Double bands of white organdy were worn as hair ornaments and each carried a small cascade bouquet of white Starlight and pink roses, with strands of ivy.

James Clark of Omaha served his brother as best man, and the corps of ushers included Andy Loehr, John Bordogna, both of Turtle Creek, Pa; James Yeisley of Coin, Ia.; Fred Kidder and Robert Wagner.

Imported white Swiss organdy, banded with embroidery from the empire bodice to the chapel train, was chosen by the bride for her wedding gown. Embroidery, which contoured the rounded, shell neckline, patterned the brief, cuffed sleeves and was repeated in the small cap which held to the head her triple-tiered veil. She carried a small bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley and stephanotis.

After the reception, held in the church parlors, Mr. Clark and his bride left for a honeymoon trip to Colorado and the Black Hills. For traveling Mrs. Clark wore a brown and white silk tweed sheath frock with matching topper and accessories. Upon their return to Lincoln Mr. and Mrs. Clark will reside at 1801 B St., for the summer, and in the autumn will go to Green Bay, Wis., where Mr. Clark will play professional football with the Green Bay Packers.

Mrs. Clark is a former student at the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority. Mr. Clark also has attended the University of Nebraska and is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity and N Club.

Insurance Club Dinner

The regular dinner-meeting of the Insurance Women of Lincoln will be held at 6 o'clock, Thursday evening, at the Hotel Capital when new officers of the club will be installed.

The program will include songs by Lige Powell, a student at Irving Junior High School, and a ventriloquist skit by Jim Maughan, an Everett Junior High School student, who will be assisted by Jim Nesmit.

New officers of the group are Miss Ellen Deming, president; Mrs. Rose McClintock, vice president; Mrs. Shirley Byerly, secretary; and Mrs. Lois Kirkman, treasurer.

The installation will be conducted by the following outgoing officers: Miss Aurelia Plautz, president; Miss Deming, vice president; Miss LaVonne Lyle, secretary; and Mrs. Warren Weston, treasurer.

Has Evening Ceremony

MRS. DONAVAN LEE TADKEN

All-white summer blossoms and lighted white candles appointed the chancel of the First Presbyterian Church in Lincoln Wednesday evening, June 8, for the marriage of Miss Ellen Kay Sabin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Roger Sabin of New York City, and Donavan Lee Tadken, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hero Tadken of Firth. The 7 o'clock service was solemnized by Dr. C. Vin White.

As the 150 guests assembled, Mrs. Karl S. Quisenberry of Minneapolis, Minn., sister of the bride, presented a prelude of organ music. The wedding music was played by Miss Grace Finch who also accompanied Miss Carol Asbury of St. Joseph, Mo., vocalist.

The matron of honor and bride's only attendant was Mrs. John Dildine of Washington, D. C., who wore a full-skirted ballerina frock of lime green cotton. She carried white and pink glamelias.

Verone Gibb of David City served Mr. Tadken as best man, and seating the guests were Robert Frerichs of Bostwick, cousin of the bridegroom; Robert Boesiger, Cortland; Robert Amick, Omaha; and Leon Kroenke of Columbus.

The bride's waltz-length gown was fashioned of white Chantilly lace and tulle over satin. A wide V decolletage accented the snug bodice of lace, and the sleeves were long and fitted. Beneath a molded hip-yoke of the lace, the tulle skirt was caught into minute pleats and was edged with lace. Her veil of French illusion was finger-tip length, and she carried a cascade of white roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Tadken will reside in Lincoln where the bride is a student at the University of Nebraska, of which Mr. Tadken is a graduate.

Dedicate Woman's Club House

The Lincoln Woman's Club members dedicated their new club house Wednesday afternoon at a special program which was followed by an open house during the afternoon and evening hours.

Seated in the group picture (left to right) are Mrs. E. W. Rowe, chairman of the board of trustees, who presented the dedicatory address; Mrs. Harry W. Hust, club president; and Mrs. Effie Scott, second president of the club, who welcomed the guests. Standing (from the left) are Mrs. Helen Tuttle Abbott, club historian and past president; Mrs. Johnson Beam, piano accompanist; and Mrs. Donald T. Waggener, who presented a program of songs.

A special guest and featured speaker was Mrs. F. H. Barmore of Lexington (pictured at right with Mrs. Hust), president of the Nebraska Federation of Women's Clubs. Other program speakers were Gov. Victor Anderson, Mayor Clark Jeary, Dr. Charles Patterson of the University of Nebraska, Rabbi H. Stern and the Rt. Rev. Msgr. L. V. Barnes.

The program also included numbers by Winnie Margaret Owen, pianist. In charge of arrangements were Mrs. Nathan Grossman and Mrs. J. J. Grovert.

State DAR Has Board Meeting

Blackledge, Kearney, vice regent; Mrs. Harry Ferguson, McCook, treasurer; Mrs. A. O. Fasser, Fremont, historian; and Mrs. H. L. Zinnecker, David City, chaplain.

GOLD'S of Nebraska

invites you to an amazing demonstration of MAX FACTOR'S great new discovery

SECRET KEY

that opens the way to new beauty for women with dry skin, oily skin, disturbed skin

until today you might as well have been putting your skin treatment creams on glass!

But now Max Factor's SECRET KEY throws open the barrier in your skin that's been holding back your creams and lotions!

WHY? Your skin may be dry. You use the richest creams faithfully, yet there's no relief from flakiness. Why?

WHY? Your skin is oily. You switch from one treatment preparation to another, yet blackheads and blemishes still persist. Why?

BECAUSE! The answer is the same in either case, as Max Factor scientists have now proved. There's a chemical barrier in the skin which keeps creams and lotions "on the outside looking in"— as though they were smoothed on glass! This barrier develops when skin lacks what dermatologists refer to as "correct pH* balance"—meaning it's either too acid or too alkaline. And very few women do have correct skin balance.

WHAT? But now Max Factor has perfected the way to bring about normal acidity-alkaline balance characteristic of young skin . . . the SECRET KEY—a remarkable liquid which prepares your skin for treatment by breaking through the stubborn chemical barrier. The SECRET KEY actually opens the way for skin creams and lotions to penetrate at last and do their beautifying work!

Having discovered the SECRET KEY, Max Factor has now formulated corrective creams and lotions—beauty treatment groups for the Dry Skin, Oily Skin, Disturbed Skin, Normal Skin, each coordinated with the SECRET KEY, to help the skin to help itself.

We are proud to invite you to realize your skin's fullest beauty potential, beginning HERE and NOW—with Max Factor's own personal representative on hand in our Cosmetics Department to show you the SECRET KEY to your natural skin loveliness.

6 oz. bottle of SECRET KEY... beginning of all skin care, it prepares your skin at last for full response to beauty treatment! 1.50 plus tax

Come and see this dramatic picture brought to life by Miss Marie Abee, Max Factor Salon Consultant, who will be here all this week to show you how the SECRET KEY opens your skin's way to beauty!

Attack On U.S. Possibility 'Real'—Air Force Official

No Room For Complacency

WASHINGTON (AP)—Trevor Gardner, assistant secretary of the Air Force, said Wednesday night the possibilities of a devastating surprise attack upon the United States "are very real."

"The numbers and types of aircraft which we observed in the recent early May fly-bys in Moscow provide us no room for complacency—none at all," Gardner told the Institute of the Aeronautical Sciences, in a dinner address.

"For me, the implications are clear that the Russians are making a serious challenge to our technological lead."

Gardner, who heads up Air Force research and development, said the United States must spend larger sums than ever, during the next few years, on research and development projects.

Congress Cut

He said that even though the Air Force research budget request of 431 million dollars last year was "well disciplined," Congress cut it to 418 million.

Meanwhile, he added, the Communists are building more and more weapons "plus a great bomber force to deliver them."

"Short of war, which we will never start, there is nothing we can do to prevent the Reds from producing nuclear weapons and building a great air force," Gardner said.

Soviet Problem

"We can improve our defenses, and build a better air force of our own."

Gardner said the United States must build "weapons of such superior ingenuity, performance and effect as to override the enemy's ability to attack us or defend himself."

"I would not like to have Russia's air defense problem," he said.

"Ours is bad enough, but his is 10 times worse."

Summons Ordered In 1952 Accident Of Fairmont Truck

Federal Judge John C. Delehant has ordered appointment of Fillmore County Sheriff Albert Tobiassen of Geneva to serve a summons on Marjorie G. Mumby of Fairmont, doing business as the Mumby Oil Co.

The order was requested in a motion filed by C. F. Rickford of Texas, plaintiff in a damage suit against Mrs. Mumby.

Richford is seeking a $50,000 judgment against Mrs. Mumby.

The suit arises from an accident on Nov. 25, 1952, near Fairmont, in which a car in which Rickford was a passenger was in collision with a truck driven by Dwight I. Hayworth.

The plaintiff alleges that Hayworth was employed by the defendant as a truck driver and that he parked his truck on the highway, left it unattended and failed to post warnings.

$9,000 Budget Increase OKd By City Planning Commission

By Bill DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

A $21,065 budget for the 1955-'56 fiscal year has been approved by the City Planning Commission.

The zudget is up $9,065 from the current year's figure of $12,000. However, the current budget included only $9,900 for the services of the city's planning experts, Harland Batholomew and Associates of St. Louis, Mo.

The actual contract for these services called for a fee of $11,000. The only other increases in the newly proposed budget are $5,000 for an assistant to the city's planning engineer, $210 for office equipment for the assistant and $250 for a new zoning map.

One change which increases the budget is the transfer of the salary of planning engineer's secretary from the engineering to the planning department. This $2,505 salary will now come out of the Commission's budget.

The Commission acted on five plats and three zoning changes. Denied was a change in zoning from single family to multiply dwelling at 4900 J.

Approved was a change in zoning from single family to four family residential at the northeast corner of 49th and J.

Plats approved:

Park Valley Heights from 56th to 59th north of Vine, preliminary.

Patrician Heights north of Vine and west of 55th, preliminary and final.

Svoboda Heights from Calvert to Stockwell at 35th, final.

Fiene Union Addition from Pioneers to LaSalle and 43rd to 45th, final.

Reed Heights north of South and east of the south half of Park Manor, final.

Oral Arguments Attack And Defend Heintze's Gas Tax Fund Distribution

By ROY CAMPBELL
Star Staff Writer

Former State Treasurer Frank M. Heintze was described as "extremely negligent" in his disbursement of gasoline tax funds Wednesday as briefs and oral arguments were presented in Heintze's suit against 93 counties in District Court here.

The charge was made by Lancaster County Attorney Elmer M. Scheele who argued Heitze was "personally liable" in not changing the distribution system of the gas funds.

Attorneys for Heintze said "it is simply fantastic" to place the state treasurer under this burden of being personally responsible for his judgment in the distribution system. They said "he would be working at his peril" in disbursing the money under this thinking.

One More Hearing

The question of Heitze's actions will probably result in one more hearing on the gas tax disbursement question, according to District Judge Harry Spencer who is hearing the suit. Spencer said Wednesday, at the close of the day's hearings, that "further argument will be called for to determine if there has been a lack of efficiency on the part of the treasurer."

At stake in the hearing is a question of how to distribute among the state's counties some $3 million now in deposit with the Lancaster District Court. The funds represent gas taxes collected through the last three months of 1954 with the filing of a declaratory judgment asked for by Heintze when some counties claimed they were not getting their proper share of the taxes.

The litigation over the distribution system was started by Lancaster County Atty. Frederick Wagener who claimed the county was not getting its share of the taxes.

The two major questions up to Judge Spencer to decide will be which census figures to use for distribution of the $3 million and a definition of "non-farm" resident in making up the population figure.

The plaintiff's attorneys said they couldn't believe the intent of the Legislature, in passing the gas tax law in 1939, was that census figures dating back to the start of the census-taking would apply in the distribution system. They claimed that the date the figures were published, in this case October, 1953, would be the date of application.

Argues For 1940

Atty. Guy C. Chambers, representing 63 state counties, contended Wednesday the 1940 census was the one to apply. The effect would be to grant a larger share of the gas tax money to the smaller counties that have been steadily losing population over the past 10 years.

August Ross, representing Douglas County, told the court Wednesday he thought the state treasurer was responsible for changing the tax distribution after the latest census figures became available.

Ross contended the phrase "last U. S. census" meant, under the law, the last available census and not the 1940 census which would have applied when the tax law was passed. He contended also that the date of the beginning of the census, April 1, 1950, should be the one used for determining the tax distribution based on population changes. He said the 1953 date, when the census figures were published by the United States, was three years too late for proper disbursement.

Another question to be answered by the court will be whether or not counties that may have received more than their share of the tax mney should be docked for overpayment.

Lack Of Interest

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A scheduled civil defense evacuation drill in which eight northern suburbs of Milwaukee were to take part has been called off for lack of interest. Officials said only 48 motorists volunteered to join in the drill. Plans had called for 1,000 cars to flee to Port Washington in an evacuation test in connection with a national civil defense exercise June 15.

Food Prices Up

NEW YORK (AP) — A slight rise was recorded this week in the Dun & Bradstreet index of wholesale food prices. The index stood at $6.39, up from $6.33 last week, which was the lowest since April 7, 1953. A year ago, the figure was $7.36.

2,000 Change Plans

NEW YORK (AP) — Steamship officials disclosed Wednesday that more than 2,000 Americans who had booked passage to Europe have had to change their plans because of the strike of British seamen. The strike has tied up five trans-Atlantic liners in British ports.

Frisco Jolted

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A light earthquake rattled houses in San Francisco's western areas at 9:27 a.m. PDT Wednesday. There was no damage. Few people felt the shock, which was noticeable in the Sunset, Westlake and Bernal Heights sections.

Happy Haymes Seeks Citizenship In Trip To Reno

RENO, Nev. (AP) — A cheerful Dick Haymes, flush from a victory over the government in its suit to deport him, flew into Reno Wednesday seeking U.S. citizenship.

"It's something I should have done years ago," the crooner said. Haymes came up from Hollywood to fill out an immigration form.

It'll be three or four months before the Immigration Service processes the application, Haymes' attorney said. After that, the singer can petition the courts for citizenship if, in the meanwhile, the government has not appealed the deportation case.

Last week a federal court in Washington ruled the government had no right to deport the 36-year-old husband of actress Rita Hayworth back to his native Argentina.

The government had maintained that Haymes lost his chance for citizenship because of a trip he made to Hawaii when he was wooing the beauteous actress in 1953.

Austria President Signs Treaty Okay

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — President Theodor Koerner signed Wednesday the ratification document of the Austrian independence treaty. The Austrian parliament approved it Tuesday.

The ratification document now will be sent to Moscow for deposit. The treaty, signed here May 15, has yet to be ratified by Britain, France, Russia and the United States. It comes into force when all five ratification documents are deposited in Moscow.

Attlee Will Leave Party Post In Fall

LONDON (AP) — Clement R. Attlee has told colleagues he intends to retire from leadership of the Labor Party this fall.

Authoritative sources said Wednesday the 72-year-old former prime minister took "a firm decision" to step down in response to party demands for younger and more vigorous hand at the helm.

The Laborites suffered a bad licking in the May 26 general elections from Prime Minister Eden's Conservatives.

Old Campus Gates To Be Dedicated

The permanent installation of two weather-beaten arched iron gates which were the only entrances to the University of Nebraska during the 55 years that the campus was enclosed by an iron fence will be dedicated Saturday.

The gates, originally placed on the city campus in 1892, will be installed at the entrances to the columns northeast of Memorial Stadium. A gift from Ralph Mueller of Cleveland, O., a graduate of 1898, made possible the restoration.

Mrs. Fred Putney of Lincoln, is chairman of the committee instrumental in getting the gates restored on campus. The effort to save the gates began in earnest last year when the gates were found rusting at the College of Agriculture. Members of the committee working on the project were Louis Horne, Miss Kate Field, Mrs. Fred Williams, and James Mueller.

The dedication program will feature a brief carillon interlude, a few reminiscences of days when the gates were standing given by Mrs. Williams and Prof. Richard D. Moritz, dean emeritus of Summer Sessions, and the presentation and acceptance of the gates by University officials. Mrs. Putney will preside and Horne will present the gates to the University.

The program will take place immediately after the Round - Up luncheon of the University Alumni Association, scheduled at noon Saturday at the Student Union.

Annual LCC Swingfest To Get Under Way Today

BY DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

One of Lincoln's top golfing events—the annual three-day Lincoln Country Club Swingfest—gets under way Thursday.

Practice rounds will be played during the day and the kick-off stag dinner is scheduled to get underway at 6 p.m. Thursday night.

Don Pegler Sr.

First round action will highlight Friday's program, with the second round slated for Saturday.

Pairings and starting times for the gala links event will be announced at the Thursday night stag by Pro Bud Williamson. An awards banquet and dance will be held at the conclusion of the golf fireworks Saturday night.

Taking part in the Swingfest will be LCC members and their out-of-town guests. Each member is paired with one guest to form a team and the team matches strokes against the field.

Erv Rucklos

Ted Sick

Erv Rucklos, Ted Sick and Don Pegler Sr., compose the executive committee for this year's festival and Pegler said Wednesday some 80 teams were expected to compete for the championship trophy.

The team with the low net score for the two days will be the winner. Low partner on each hole provides the counter.

The team of Lee Chapin of LCC and Rod Smith of Sioux City, Ia., walked off with top honors, while Joe Spangler and Dr. Bob Stein, both from the Country Club, finished second.

Don Pegler Jr., LCC, and Harry Galloway of Red Oak, Ia., teamed for the third spot.

Irving Midget Teams Get Practice Times

Manager Daryl Carroll has announced practice times for his Irving teams of the Midget League.

The A team will practice at 9:30 a.m. Thursday and at 1 p.m. Saturday.

The B team will work out at 1 p.m. Thursday and at 7 a.m. Saturday.

Water Safety Aids Needed By Red Cross

Several water safety aids are needed to assist in the Red Cross summer swim program, according to Director Harry Kuklin.

Anyone between the ages of 14 and 17 with a current junior or senior lifesaving certificate who would like to help instructors should report to Kuklin at 10 a.m. Thursday morning at Muny Pool.

Five Local Netters In Cup Match

Five of the top ranking Lincoln Tennis Club players will make the trip to Omaha next Sunday, June 12, for the annual Donley Cup Match.

Lt. Bryan Meharg will doubtless play in the number one position and it is assumed that his Omaha opponent will be Steve Broadie, Nebraska State Singles Champion.

Major Charles Hanner will occupy the number two position and will team up with Meharg for the number one doubles match. Jim Porter is at number three and Larry Belt will play in the fourth position. Belt recently defended his number four ranking by defeating Roy Colson 6-4, 6-4 in a challenge ladder match.

Belt and Porter will team up as Lincoln's number two doubles entry. The fifth position on the team is being determined at present through a series of challenge matches. Roy Colson, Rev. Stanley Siegienski and Neal Unterseher are all in the running for this number five spot.

Two former major league shortstops are managing teams in the International League. They are Skeeter Newsome at Syracuse and Luke Appling at Richmond.

Disaster On The Blue

The letter was from a fellow initialed N. C.

After the customary greeting he jumped into:

"A businessman in Lancaster County, I long ago compromised a desire for a life of oceanside recreation with the necessity of earning a living where I was established and secure. Thus, I stayed in Nebraska—in Lancaster County—and sought expression of my fondness of water sports in hunts for the fish which swim in this state's rivers and lakes.

"My experience is that Nebraska provides satisfactory fishing, both in river and lake. The crappie are numerous, the bass strong and the catfish truly a fighter favorably comparable to the trout of western mountain streams.

"But I cannot bring myself to compliment a portion of the waters of Nebraska which I have found to be rated vastly above its quality. The water of which I speak flows in the Blue River, approximately five to 10 miles northwest of Beatrice.

"For beauty the area is surpassed by nothing I have seen during my lifetime of fishing in many of the publicized sections of the country.

"If song-writer Paul Dresser of "Banks of the Wabash" fame had visited that section on the Blue, I feel he would have produced lyrics superior to the famous words which glamourize that Indiana stream.

"But he would have caught no catfish in the Blue waters.

"If Izaak Walton had crossed the Atlantic Ocean and traveled into Gage County where the Blue flows calmly, he would have found a stream with the challenges which tantalieze fishermen the world over.

"But he would have caught no catfish.

"In five trips to the Blue this spring and summer, not only have I failed to lift a catfish from its waters but neither have I seen another angler accomplish more.

"On the Blue I have felt nothing similar to the bait-attacks which have announced to me the presence of many catfish on many other rivers.

"Because I have confidence in my ability to catch fish I shall return to that section of the Blue again, but I admit that my recent failures have casued me to feel that one river in the state has been overrated as regards its fish stock."

Chiefs Beaten By Pueblo, 12-4

Dodgers' Bats Blast Jack Brown

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

It didn't pay the Lincoln Chiefs to go to the ball park Wednesday night.

Nothing seemed to go right for Bill Burwell's gang as the fifth-place Pueblo Dodgers exposed several weak spots and rocked two pitchers for a 12-4 victory.

The loss, coupled with Wichita's 5-4 win over Colorado Springs, dropped the Sherman Field inhabitants a game and a half back of the Indians in the Western League standings.

Lincoln and Pueblo tangle in the rubber game of the series tonight at 8 p.m. Bill Bell (6-3) will hurl for the Chiefs, while Dodger Boss Goldie Holt has pointed the finger at Jim Mertlik (1-2). It will be Ladies Night.

Jackie Brown, the league strike-out leader who can't seem to win a game, was the victim of the Pueblo onslaught Wednesday night. He's now got a record of two wins and seven losses.

There was trouble from the start as Pueblo tallied once in the first on two singles and a double by Pedro Almenares, but it was to get more trying before the 2:38 contest was concluded.

The Dodgers scored in every inning but the fourth as Brown and Ben Daniels—he relieved in the sixth—repeatedly got into jams of their own making or of their mates who booted five times. A couple of passed balls didn't help matters either.

Brown was driven from the mound after giving up seven runs—five earned—and eight hits. He managed to strike out four Dodgers and walked six, four in the second to force in a run.

Daniels was tagged for six hits and five runs—three earned— in the three and two-thirds innings he was on the hill for the Chiefs.

Lincoln's offense was just about as ineffective as the defense. The Chiefs collected only five hits off Pueblo's Frank White who graciously walked 12 Lincoln batters. But he didn't have to worry much.

Eleven Sherman-towners were left stranded on the bases as the Chiefs struggled vainly for run-producing hits.

White had a no-hitter going with two out in the fifth, but Brown bounced a single to center. He followed Frank Rice who drew a walk and Howie Podgett's single scored Rice for Lincoln's first run after the Dodgers had four.

Two more were added in the seventh—Pueblo had eight by then—on two walks and Daniel's double. Padgett doubled to opened the ninth and scored on Dick Hall's single, but the Dodgers had 12 and their third victory over the Chiefs in 13 meetings.

Pueblo had two three-run innings, the sixth and the ninth. The rest of the time the Dodgers were happy to settle for one at a time.

In the sixth, two singles, a double by Bill Gabler and a fielder's choice did the job. Two walks and a 385-foot home run over the centerfield wall by Gabler added insult to injury in the ninth.

Smoke Signals . . . Gabler had a big evening, hitting three-for-five, including a double and a homer, to drive in six runs . . . Pueblo got one run in the fifth on a double steal . . . Members of the Traffic Club were among the 701 patrons present . . . Only one Chief is hitting .300 now. Frank Rice boasts .306

Determination

Welterweight challenger Carmen Bosilio wears a grim look of determination Wednesday as he pretends the big bag is Champion Tony DeMarco and completes his gym workouts for Friday night's title fight at the War Memorial in Syracuse, N.Y. Basilio went three rounds on each of the big and small bags as Manager Joe Netro (left) looked on and voiced approval of Carmen's fitness. (AP Wirephoto)

Challenger Is Favored By 17 To 10

By OWEN CRUMB

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Challenger Carmen Basilio used fighting words Wednesday to reply to predictions by Tony DeMarco's handlers that the champion would keep his title by a knockout Friday.

"Let him come in and try it," Carmen commented calmly. "Then he'll leave himself wide open."

Neither Basolio nor DeMarco are making and predictions themselves, except for exuding quiet confidence of victory. They are fighters who figure their fists will do the talking when they climb inside the War Memorial Ring here at 9 p.m., CST, Friday night.

200 Rounds

Both closed out their heavy training Tuesday. Carmen has boxed a total of 200 rounds in getting ready for the championship. He looks fit and fast. He worked out on the big and small bags Wednesday, just to keep limbered up, and plans to run a couple of miles Thursday.

DeMarco, who will fly to Syracuse Thursday, also was down to the mere limbering up stage after sparring a total of 51 rounds at his training camp at Monticello.

He has looked strong and sharp and has been aspecially effective with good combinations featuring the solid work of his respected left hook.

The odds-makers in New York have made the challenger, in an unusual situation, the 17-10 favorite. Local acceptors of wagers have followed that lead. Some hese just won't touch any Basilio money, according to avid followers of boxing.

Air Travel Ban Is Talked

A's Johnson Will Battle For Flights

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Recurrent reports that big league baseball moguls may seek to ban air travel for their high priced diamond darlings drew a sniff of disbelief Wednesday from president Arnold Johnson of the Kansas City Athletics.

Working hard to get the transplanted A's going on the majors' westernmost flank, Johnson put himself on record as being definitely in favor of flying his club cross country whenever necessary or if air travel would be more restful for the players on a long trip. And from here to Boston, the easternmost outpost of the American League is roughly a 1500-mile jump.

The hullaballoo about air travel got going good recently as result of a narrowly averted collision between a Canadian jet fighter and a chartered plane carrying the Milwaukee Braves to Quebec for an exhibition game. Some sportswriters predicted a move would be made next winter to ban team flights.

One of the leaders in such a move is likely to be George Weiss, general manager of the New York Yankees. He won't let the Yanks fly as a team now.

"I've talked with Weiss several times about not letting his club fly," Johnson said in an interview with Joe McGuff of the Kansas City Star. "He always tells me that he doesn't want to take a chance on putting his whole team in one plane at a time. He says he could not begin to replace his ball club in five years if it were lost in a crash.

"I've told him just to double his insurance from 5 to 10 million dollars.

"You can't tell me that you wouldn't be able to buy outstanding ball players for $400,000 to $500,000 a piece. When you get into that kind of dough, anyone will listen to you.

"Statistically, planes are just as safe as any other means of transportation. If the weather is good, they are probably safer."

Indians Widen Lead

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—The Wichita Indians increased their Western League lead by downing Colorado Springs Wednesday night 5 to 4 in a weird game in which both teams took turns at giveaway baseball. Eight errors marred the play.

Chiefs Obtain Young Pitcher

Pitcher Forace Oxendine joined the Lincoln Club Wednesday.

Oxendine, who has been in college, will not be placed on the active list until he is in condition to pitch.

Oxendine's contract was purchased on a conditional basis from Denver early this year. Six other player contracts—also purchased conditionally—have been returned by the Chiefs to Denver.

Oxendine is 23, 6-0, 175 and a right-hander. He had limited experience in Class D before entering the Army in 1953.

Red Sox Edge Tribe 5-4 On 12th Inning Bobble

CLEVELAND (AP) — Jim Piersall doubled in the 12th and scored the winning run on an error Wednesday night as the Boston Red Sox beat Cleveland, 5-4, and dropped the Indians into third place.

Piersall, who got to third on an infield out, crossed the plate when Sam Dente muffed a grounder by Bill Klaus.

Gene Stephens hit a three-run homer for Boston after Billy Goodman and Klaus walked in the fifth.

The other Boston run was in the second inning when Norm Zauchin and Grady Hatton singled and Piersall doubled.

Homers by Vic Wertz, Ralph Kiner and Al Rosen drove in all the Cleveland runs. Wertz' sixth home run of the season came in the ninth, sending the game into extra innings.

Rosen connected in the sixth after Kiner reached first on an error. Kiner went around in the fourth. For Rosen it was the seventh over-the-fence blow and for Kiner the eighth.

Leo Kiely, who relieved Bill Henry in the ninth, was the winning pitcher. The loser was Don Mossi, who took over after Bob Lemon was replaced by a pinch hitter in the eighth.

Nats Defeated By Athletics

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Enos Slaughter's ninth-inning pinch single scored Gus Zernial with the winning run Wednesday as the Kansas City Athletics took a 3-2 pitching duel from the Washington Senators.

It was Slaughter's third pinch hit in his last four times at bat. The victory went to Cloyd Boyer and was his third against two losses.

Bob Porterfield took his sixth loss against eight victories. He walked Zernial with one out and Suitcase Simpson sent Gus to third with a single to center. Manager Chuck Dressen ordered Vic Power walked to fill the bases and skipper Lou Boudreau countered by sending up Slaughter to hit for Jim Finigan.

The Senators had gone ahead in the second inning when Clint Courtney, their newly acquired catcher, stroked a home run over the left field fence with Johnny Groth, also a new acquisition on base.

The A's tied it up in the fourth when Hector Lopez singled, Elmer Valo walked and both scored on Simpson's double.

Detroit Stops Yankees, 3-1

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers made only six hits but turned three of Bob Turley's 10 walks into runs Wednesday night and beat the New York Yankees 3-1 before 43,139 fans in Briggs Stadium.

Turley pitched the first six innings. He allowed five hits and struck out five—but wildness cost him his third straight loss and made his season's record 8-4.

The defeat also cost the Yankees a chance to stretch their league lead, which remained at 4½ games over the second-place Chicago White Sox who lost an afternoon game.

Rookie Frank Lary went all the way for Detroit. He was touched for eight hits and walked four, but four doubleplays helped him out of frequent trouble. He now has a 6-5 record.

The Tigers in all received 14 walks, getting four from relief-pitcher Tom Sturdivant who worked the last two innings.

The Yanks picked up a run in the third on Gil McDougald's single to left, a walk and Mickey Mantle's single between first and second.

The Tigers took the lead with two runs in the fourth. Turley walked the first three batters—Bob Wilson, Harry Malmberg and Lary—to fill the bases.

Wilson scored when Harvey Kuenn forced Lary at second and Malmberg came across on Bill Tuttle's line single to center.

Charles Wins Over Holman

CINCINNATI (AP) — Ezzard Charles of Cincinnati, staying in close all the way, punched out a unanimous 10-round decision Wednesday night over Johnny Holman of Chicago. It was Holman's long righthanded shots that gave him a technical knockout over Charles, former world's heavyweight champion, in the ninth round of a bout in April in Miami.

Charles weighed 195½ to 202 for Holman. The bout was nationally televised.

Charles used all his 15 years of experience to outbox the 27-year-old Chicagoan.

Holman, however, a terrific puncher, never quit trying and repeatedly shot his long right over Charles' left in an effort to repeat the knockout of April 27.

The former champion, however, boxed with his left shoulder held high and never was in trouble Holman, on the other hand, was stunned with a hard straight right in the third round and was hurt again in the fourth and fifth from terrific left hooks.

Midway in the fourth when Holman seemed to be wearing down, he stopped Charles in his tracks with a hard right chop to the chin. Charles covered immediately and worked himself out of danger.

In the fifth, Charles pounded the body viciously, occasionally coming through with a straight right or a left hook. Late in that round Holman faltered after catching a hard hook to the jaw and Charles tore after him, but the bell ended the round a few seconds later.

Holman was at his best in the seventh and eighth rounds and was able to edge out the former champion in the eighth. Both men fought at close quarters throughout those rounds but Holman slipped through several hard, jolting short punches on the jaw.

Sixth Haymaker Open At Cozad Golf Course

COZAD—Over $400 in trophies, merchandise and cash will be distributed at the sixth Annual Haymaker Open Golf Tournament here Sunday.

A 27-hole championship flight and six 18-hole flights are scheduled. The first nine holes will serve as a quaifying round and will count on the total score.

The most triple plays in one league during a season is seven. This was registered by American League teams in 1922 and 1936. The National League executed seven in 1910 and 1929.

Newk Racks Up Tenth Victory

BROOKLYN (AP)—Brooklyn's big Don Newcombe, still unbeaten, breezed in as the first pitcher to win 10 games in the major leagues this season with a masterful four-hit, 3-1 victory over the Cincinnati Redlegs in rain and cold Wednesday night.

The 6-4 righthander, who had only a 9-8 record after returning from service last season, pitched perfect ball over the last five innings. He didn't give up a walk all night, struck out seven and retired the last 16 men he faced.

It was Newcombe all the way. The big guy, who bats left-handed, smacked a single and a double, figuring in two of the Brooks' runs, as the Dodgers sent Gerry Staley to his fourth defeat against four victories with a 10-hit attack.

The only lapse Newcombe suffered was a fourth-inning pitch that Ted Kluszewski hammered against the wind and over the right field screen. It was his 16th homer of the season.

Newcombe, who got Kluszewski on a pop foul for the final out, smacked a long double off the center field wall in the fourth as the Dodgers broke up a 1-1 tie. Jackie Robinson got the scoring under way after two were out with a single and rookie Frank Kellert then lofted a wind-blown pop fly that fell in front of center fielder Gus Bell to score the tie-breaking run.

Then Newk drove Kellert home with his double.

The defeat dropped Cincinnati out of a fifth place tie with the St. Louis Cardinals, who were idled by rain at Philadelphia.

Pirates Win Over Cubs 2-1

PITTSBURGH (AP) — First baseman Dale Long hit his fourth homer of the season with one out in the last of the ninth Wednesday night to give the Pittsburgh Pirates a 2-1 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

The blow came off relief pitcher Jim Davis who had retired the first man to face him on an infield out.

The victory went to young Ronnie Kline who hurled superatively in the clutches and was helped by two double plays. It was his third victory against eight defeats. He had dropped six in a row, not having won since May 6.

Kline struck out seven and walked four.

Fishing In State Poor Except In Extreme East

Fishing throughout the state has been poor, with the exception of the extreme eastern part. Game Commission reports indicate windy and cool weather has hindered the fishing.

Some streams in the eastern part of the state have produced good catfish and carp catches. Notable among these waters was the Elkhorn, Platte, and the Missouri rivers. Sandpit lakes in the Fremont-Omaha area have been producing good bass fishing.

Fishing in the extreme northern part of the state near the junction of the Niobrara and Missouri rivers was excellent. Walleye, crappie, bluegill, catfish and carp fishing was good in both rivers. Although the water level was low all species were hitting good, particularly on artificial lures.

Trout fishing also has been good at the Fremont lakes with a limit being taken by Mr. and Mrs. John McKulsky of Omaha. The largest was a 2½ pound rainbow.

A bright spot in the western part of the state was the trout fishing at Chadron reservoir and White river. Worms and salmon eggs were the most successful baits used there.

Fishing in the southeastern part of the state picked up shortly after the recent rains. As the water level of the streams subsided, the fishing success dropped sharply. Some catfish are being caught near the Guide Rock diversion dam, but there have been no reports of exceptionally large catches.

College Meet Matches Best Against Best

OMAHA (AP) — The lower bracket of the NCAA college World Series opening here Friday appears to pack the most power.

In this bracket are Oklahoma A&M., loser of only one game during the season; Arizona, a team that showed fine pitching in last year's series; Western Michigan, which disposed of the Big Ten champion in a playoff and has a long winning baseball history, and Springfield, Mass., another good baseball school.

The upper bracket has Southern California, Wake Forest, Colgate and Colorado State. Southern California has always been tough when it made its way to the series. Wake Forest has a baseball tradition. But, all in all, the upper bracket doesn't seem to pack the power of the lower bracket.

Arizona and Oklahoma A&M. are installed as early favorites. Both have excellent pitching and both are studded with veterans of teams that made strong bids here last year although neither could make it to the finals as Missouri and Rollins College surprised.

Colgate and Wake Forest will open the tourney at 12 noon EST Friday with Southern California and Colorado State meeting in the other day game at 3 p.m. CST.

Demo Charges Politics Influencing FOA Hiring

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Williams (D-NJ) charged that "political considerations" have improperly influenced the awarding of jobs in the Foreign Operations Administration.

FOA chief Harold E. Stassen declared, however, he never let politics determine the appointment of an FOA official.

Williams questioned Stassen about hiring practices while the FOA administrator was testifying before the House Foreign Affairs Committee. Later he put out a statement contending there was a tie-up between the Republican National Committee and the filling of nonpolicy FOA jobs.

He said Stassen "revealed" he has employed "a young lady whose function it is to handle referrals to nonpolicy jobs from the Republican National Committee and Republican members of Congress."

Williams said such practices violated "the spirit" if not the "letter" of FOA's enabling law. This, he said, "specifically states that 'no political test shall be applied and none taken into consideration' in the appointment of personnel to nonpolicy positions in FOA."

"The evidence seems clear," Williams said, "that this injection of political considerations into the personnel practices of FOA . . . is a sorry kind of reward to the Democrats in the Congress who consistently extend more support to this (FOA) program than do the members of the President's own party."

While before the committee, Stassen said the "vast majority" of the present staff are Democrats. He added he "never held as a bar to any appointment the fact that the individual is a Democrat."

Seward Man On Bond For Grabbing Woman

A 21-year-old man has been placed under $200 peace bond for grabbing a woman who was waiting for her children to return from Bible School.

The man, James Sampson, 21, was also fined $50 on charges of assult and disturbing the peace for the same incident. He was placed under $200 peace bond in County Court on the recommendation of the County Attorney's office.

Sioux City Navigation With 6-Foot Channel Seen In 6 Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—Army Engineers have told Congress navigation on the Missouri River to Sioux City, Ia., with a 6-foot channel is possible in five or six years if progress continues at the present rate.

Congress has authorized a 9-foot navigation channel to Sioux City and navigation now is maintained to Kansas City on a 7 to 7½ foot channel and Kansas City to Omaha on a 6 to 7 foot channel.

Brig. Gen. W. E. Potter, U.S. Army Engineer for the Missouri River Division, discussed the river navigation at a hearing before a Senate Appropriations Committee.

Potter said the work of confining the river in a fixed channel above Omaha got a big lift with a three million dollar appropriatoins last year and that $5,800,000 budgeted by President Eisenhower for next year would keep the work progressing.

Potter said that the present rate of appropriations, it would take about 10 years to complete the nine-foot foot channel to Sioux City. But, he said, in five or six years navigation on a 6 to 6½ foot channel would be possible.

Gen. Potter also said he strongly recommends construction of agricultural levees on the river.

"It is these projects whose return is obvious," he said Appropriations subcommittee. "When these levees are built the land behind them is developed and values increase greatly."

The project as authorized calls for levees to protect farm land from Sioux City, Iowa, to St. Louis at an estimated cost of 156 million dollars. The budget recommends an appropriation this year of $700,000, and farmers in the area asked an additional million.

The retail package liquor and beer licenses held by Gordon H. Watson, Morrill, were suspended for five days on a charge of failing to observe the intent of the Nebraska Liquor Control Act.

Boy Getting Salk Vaccine Has Polio Of Paralytic-Type

OMAHA (AP)—An Omaha boy who received the Salk polio vaccine has paralytic-type polio, City-County Health Director Edwin Lyman said.

Dr. Lyman said the boy's attending physician made the diagnosis of bulbar polio on the basis of clinical evidence. He said laboratory confirmation of the diagnosis will be up to the doctor.

The 7-year-old boy was admitted to Children's Memorial hospital Saturday and was reported in good condition. He was vaccinated last month.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

BAERING DOWN ON THE NEWS — By Arthur 'Bugs' Baer

Distributed by International News Service

Conservatives have won another glorious misunderstanding and things are even more so than erstwhile.

☆ ☆ ☆

The party of Gladstone and Disraeli proved there is still a powerful umbrella-carrying constituency in England.

☆ ☆ ☆

Our favorite candidate from Umpire Riding, Brooklyn, did not stand for office.

☆ ☆ ☆

Clement Attlee of the loyal opposition to most things feels that Winsome Churchill's self-funding shadow had plenty to do with the results.

☆ ☆ ☆

In a post-mortified statement Attlee said, "Winnie or lose, I accept the verdict. And like the Phoenix bird I shall rise from my own cinders in an oil-burning age. Will some one inform Mr. Churchill that tying my shoe-laces together is not pulling the strings?"

☆ ☆ ☆

Moscow will not like the result of the election, it knows a switch in the sizes of Homburgs is not a change in government.

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Stocks Again Set New Record High

NEW YORK (AP) — The third straight new record high mark was established Wednesday by a moderately advancing stock market.

Strong gains by a sizeable list of individual issues were a feature of the session.

It also was marked by considerable irregularity, particularly in the railroad division. Brokers have been looking to the railroads to produce a strong showing to back the rise of the rest of the market. The rails so far have refused to accomodate.

Prices were up 1 to around 3 points and on out to around 6 points. Losses usually were cut off around a point.

The aluminums, other nonferous metals, steels, airlines, and aircrafts all had a hand in the push forward.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 80 cents at $169.00. It was ahead $1.00 Tuesday and 60 cents Monday. The industrial component of the average was up $1.50 at a new high of $229.20, and the utilities were up 20 cents at a new high since 1930 of $73.20, but the railroads remained unchanged at $137.20 slightly below the high of $137.60.

Rail Strike Shows Sign Of A Break

Both Sides Agree A Settlement Possible

LONDON (INS) — Negotiators in Britain's railway strike conferred lengthily Wednesday and agreed a way could be found to settle the crippling 11-day-old walkout.

James Baty, general secretary of the striking engineers and firemen's union, and Sir Brian Robertson, chairman of the British Transport Commission, met for more than five hours on the strike situation.

The talks will be resumed Thursday morning.

Before the conference ended, the two sides issued a statement saying "there is nothing which prevents them from dealing with each other in a spirit of mutual confidence."

Basic misunderstandings between the union and the commission were reportedly sorted out at the meeting, raising hopes for an agreement ending the walkout.

Elsewhere in the strike picture crewmen aboard the liner Queen Elizabeth refused to join a strike by crew members of the Mauretania, which was idled.

In Liverpool a committee of the striking seamen appealed to Labor Minister Sir Walter Monckton for intervention in the situation.

The committee urged Monckton to arbitrate the dispute which has struck several British liners.

Swedish Tanker, Freighter Collide In English Channel

ROTTERDAM, Netherlands (Thursday) (AP) — Dirkzwager shipping agency reported that the 10,788-ton Swedish tanker Johannishus was on fire in the English Channel after colliding with the 7,256-ton Panamanian freighter Buccaneer.

The Buccaneer radioed that she also had a fire aboard but had brought it under control and was standing by the Swedish ship.

The 1,784-ton British ship Emsworth reported that she had picked up two German survivors and was proceeding with them to Portsmouth.

A report to Ramsgate, England, said the collission occurred halfway between the Belgian and British coasts.

White House, Wilson, Comptroller Favor Pay Overhaul For GI Survivors

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration, the armed services and the comptroller general all came out in favor of a sweeping overhaul of payments to servicemen's survivors.

Secretary of Defense Wilson filed a letter with the special House Committee on Survivor Benefits saying the White House approves, and the Defense Department "strongly supports" the committee's plan to revamp the present hodgepodge of payments into a simpler, fairer system.

The committee bill would bring all servicemen under the social security system and would hike most Veterans Administration payments to widows, children and dependent parents. It would eliminate the present free $10,000 life insurance the government now allows men in uniform.

Adm. E. W. Grenfell, speaking for the military, stressed Pentagon backing for one controversial feature in the bill: a scaling of the VA compensation to survivors according to a serviceman's rank, rather than the present method under which a private's widow gets the same amount as a general's.

Grenfell said the VA payments should be geared to a GI's service and earnings because "the benefit is a form of deferred compensation."

Charles E. Eckert, representing the comptroller general, endorsed the general features of the bill although he said his agency has "certain reservations" about it.

He suggested social security be applied on the basis of a GI's gross pay, rather than his "base" pay as proposed, so widows and children of lower-rank servicemen could get bigger benefits.

Gooch Begins New $100,000 Addition For Bulk Handling

A $100,000 addition to Gooch Milling Co. facilities at 6th and South has been started.

Included in the cost is new equipment and a 20 by 40 foot addition seven stories high.

The new construction will increase bulk handling facilities, especially for cubed and pelleted feeds, by about 50 per cent, according to Mervin Eighmy, vice president and general manager.

The addition will be built over tracking for bulk loading of railroad cars and designed to serve trucks also.

Eighmy said additional bulk loading facilities were needed because increased mechanization of feeding on farms rquired more feeders to use feeds in bulk instead of sacks.

County Driver Tests Switch To The Capitol

Beginning July 5th, license testing for county drivers will be conducted at the State Capitol instead of in the County Courthouse.

Testing of applicants will take place in Room 1517 every Monday except holidays.

Special parking areas may be reserved for persons taking driver tests during the testing periods.

Senators Decide To Look Again At Car Dealers' Bill

The Legislature decided Wednesday to have a second look at a car dealers' bill passed Tuesday.

Sen. Perry of Lincoln moved to reconsider, with the explanation he feared use of the term "time differential" in the act would leave the way open for excessive interest charges on motor vehicle sales contracts.

Perry was one of the 23 senators voting for passage of the bill Tuesday, and so was in a position to ask for reconsideration.

Sen. Metzger of Cedar Creek, in support of Perry's motion to reconsider, related that an Omahan buying a $5,000 house trailer, was obligated to pay $1,000 interest on a one-year contract.

Metzger contended that use of the term "time sales differential" in LB 466 "legalizes the small rate on amounts over $1,000."

The legal limit now on amounts over $1,000 is nine per cent.
